Legion Is For Firing Of Acheson

Demand Made for HST to Take Immediate Action in Relieving Secretary of State

Patience Is Ended

Report of Foreign Policy Committee Applauded Lustily in Garden

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—The American Legion Convention today received a report demanding that President Truman fire Dean Acheson as secretary of state.

The report submitted to the 34th Annual Legion Convention in Madison Square Garden said:

"Our patience is exhausted. We demand immediate action in this all-department subject. We accept nothing less."

The report was submitted by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Legion and was read to the convention by Chairman Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, Tex.

When Kelley read the sentence demanding dismissal of the secretary of state, applause and cheers rose throughout the Madison Square Garden Auditorium.

UN Called Ineffective

The report dealing with foreign affairs characterized the United Nations as "ineffective as an instrument for world peace."

Earlier, the Legion urged life imprisonment for persons caught a third time illegally possessing or peddling narcotics.

The resolution, adopted as the Legion held its 34th Annual Convention in Madison Square Garden, was one of many which the organization is hammering into its new platform on national and international issues.

The resolution proposed that persons convicted of illegally selling or possessing narcotics should be punished with a $2,000 fine and a maximum of 10 years in jail on a first conviction; $2,000 fine and imprisonment up to 20 years on a second conviction; and a $2,000 fine and life imprisonment for a third conviction.

Would Aid Korean Children

Other resolutions adopted urged:

Legion units to consider a program giving material assistance to the children of Korea.

Consider the matter of fluoridation of water to protect children's teeth.

Extension of Social Security benefits to Puerto Rico.

The Legion rejected to set up a new auxiliary to be known as "Fathers of American Legionnaires."

Dr. Louis H. Bauer, president of the American Medical Association, appealed for Legion support in the AMA fight against national compulsory health insurance.

He bitterly attacked the administration, complaining that "paternalism is the order of the day in government circles" and "taxes have become confiscatory."

Credits Marine Reserves

Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, told Legionnaires there is "nothing small about the Korean War." He credited the vitality of the Marine Corps Reserve as largely responsible for accomplishing "the impossible feat" of the buildup of strength early in the Korean War.

Deputy Secretary of Defense William C. Foster said in addressing the Legion that the recent steel strike caused the nation "a more damaging injury than an enemy nation could have inflicted upon us in the same time."

A "monumental task" has been accomplished in unifying the armed forces, he said.

First Hurricane Whips Up at Sea

Miami, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP)—The season's first tropical hurricane was born today in a swirling, squally area about 1,000 miles east southeast of Miami.

A hurricane hunting plane probing the tropical storm reported slashing winds of about 85 miles an hour in the northern semi-circle.

A hurricane packs winds of 75 miles an hour or more.

The 11 a. m. (EST) advisory located the "poorly defined center" near Latitude 22.0 North and Longitude 65.0 West or about 250 miles northnortheast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Texas GOP Picks Democrats So Ike Has Solid Front

Action is Unprecedented in State's History — Democrats Run Out On Stevenson

San Antonio, Aug. 27 (AP)—Republicans seeking to cinch Texas' vote for Eisenhower hurdled ancient party lines and snuffed out the hottest internal feud in state GOP history.

Their convention here Tuesday named a full ticket of already nominated Democrats as Republican candidates for state offices, action unprecedented in Texas politics.

It healed a threatened split by a series of conciliatory moves and considerable back-slapping—all in an effort to present a solid front for Eisenhower.

Choice of Two Parties

Nominated as Democrat-Republicans were Gov. Allan Shivers for governor; Atty. Gen. Price Daniel for U. S. senator; former Rep. Martin Dies for congressman-at-large. Along with them went the full slate named by the Democrats in July for other state offices.

Their names, under a new Texas law, will go on the November election ballot both as Republican and Democrats.

At the state capitol in Austin, Gov. Shivers declined comment on the GOP action and Daniel said he was "glad the Republicans admit the Democrats have chosen the best candidates."

Republican leaders poured praise especially on Daniel and Shivers, and passed a resolution commending them for saying they could not support Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

The two Texas Democratic leaders said they would not support Stevenson because of his stand advocating federal ownership of the tidelands.

Victory for Ike Forces

The convention was a total victory for Jack Porter of Houston, new national committeeman from Texas, and his Eisenhower forces. The cross-filing strategy was promoted by this group.

Porter sought and won the election of Alvin H. Lane of Dallas as state executive committee chairman, and a new 62-member committee dominated by his friends. But under the compromise which sought to weld the party into a fighting unit for Eisenhower, the new committee included a substantial sprinkling of the old guard.

Porter became Texas' committeeman when the national convention at Chicago voted to seat the Texas Eisenhower delegation rather than the Taft old guard delegation.

Defiant Reds Learn UN Means Business

Prisoner of War Camp Commanders Say Guards Meet All Challenges

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)—Defiant Red war prisoners tested the nerves of UN guards in a series of incidents this month and guards "met every challenge" with maximum force, killing four and injuring 64, the U. S. Eighth Army said today.

Most of the casualties occurred at the main UN war prisoner camp on Koje Island off South Korea. It was on Koje last June 10 that American paratroopers broke Red rule over prisoner pens in a bloody battle in which one American and 40 prisoners were killed and 140 prisoners wounded.

Two-Month Summary

An Eighth Army spokesman summed up disturbances in July and August this way:

"In the last few weeks, prisoners of war and civilian internees in their new 500 men compounds have tried out the nerves of United Nations personnel, making trouble to see what force would be used against them. On every occasion we have used maximum force. We have met every challenge."

The army began yesterday to disclose the prisoner incidents in piecemeal announcements after a Communist broadcast charged the UN with mistreating prisoners in August a year ago.

An army spokesman said there had been no direct intent to withhold information and added that the delay was caused by a reorganization of the camp command.

Some Prisoners Hurt

The prisoner disorders occurred on two islands and in camps on the South Korea mainland. Some incidents were put down without injury. Some prisoners were hurt in free-for-all fights among the prison inmates.

Fighting among prisoners has been common as Communist and anti-Communist factions clash—

Will Visit 14 Cities in Two Areas

General Will Appear in Three Southern Cities September 2 in Georgia, Florida

Will Meet Taft

Senator Will Return to Washington Early Next Month

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced his first major campaign trip today, a double-circle route that will carry him through strategic voting areas in the south and the middle west.

Leaving New York Sept. 2, he will appear in 14 cities in 10 states. The schedule also includes speeches in New York and Philadelphia. The itinerary:

Sept. 1—New York.
Sept. 2—Atlanta, Ga., and Jacksonville and Miami, Fla.
Sept. 3—Tampa, Fla., Brimingham, Ala., Little Rock, Ark., and return New York.
Sept. 4—Philadelphia.
Sept. 5—Chicago.
Sept. 6—Rochester, Kasson and Minneapolis, Minn.
Sept. 7 (Sunday)—Minneapolis, no appointments.
Sept. 8—Cleveland, O.
Sept. 9—Indianapolis, Ind.
Sept. 10—Return New York.

Route Not Fixed

One of his aides said today the general will remain in New York for no more than two or three days before starting on an even longer swing, via the traditional campaign train with numerous "whistle stop" appearances. The route has not been fixed.

During that period, Eisenhower will meet with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, whom he defeated in a bitter battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

Taft, vacationing at Murray Bay, Canada, will return Sept. 8 to Washington.

On the first swing, two sets of regional meetings with Republican party leaders have been scheduled.

Conferences Scheduled

In Chicago, Eisenhower will confer with representatives from Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. In Cleveland, conferences are scheduled with party chiefs from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Eisenhower's speech at Convention Hall in Philadelphia will be a major effort, televised and broadcast by radio, his press secretary said. Some of the other speeches will be broadcast, but the secretary said it is not certain whether there will be other television coverage.

At the national plowing contest at Kasson, Minn., Sept. 6, Eisenhower will cross the path of his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Gov. Adlai Stevenson who is scheduled to speak the same day.

From Labor Day onward, Eisenhower's backers said, "he will be in there, swinging."

Unorthodox Move

For a Republican presidential candidate to open his campaign in the usually solid south is a somewhat unorthodox move. But Eisenhower's advisers say they believe he has a chance to carry some of the traditionally Democratic strongholds.

Sen. Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire, who visited the general yesterday said, "There is a fighting chance for him in three or four states." He named Texas, Florida, Virginia and "perhaps Tennessee."

When he completes the southern circle, Eisenhower goes into two midwestern states where Taft had some of his most solid support, Ohio and Indiana.

Martin Hits Speculation

Rep. Joseph Martin, of Massachusetts, another visitor to Eisenhower's headquarters, scoffed at speculation that Taft's admirers would not give the general wholehearted support in the battle for the presidency. "I think Taft's people, for the most part, are sup-

Dulles Says U. S. Policy Suicide as Regards Reds

Would Disintegrate Soviets by Action Within Nations Affected

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—John Foster Dulles today rapped American foreign policy as "suicidal" and proposed a plan to disintegrate "the empire of Soviet Communism" from within.

The Republican foreign policy adviser delivered his sharp attack in an address prepared for delivery before the American Political Science Association.

He called upon the United States to pay more attention to the peoples and problems of Asia, Africa and South America and to abandon as a failure its program of "containing" Communism.

"The empire of Soviet Communism can be disintegrated from within," Dulles said, adding:

Sees Over-Extension

"Already it is over-extended, covering 800 million people of what were recently 19 different independent nations. The structure could be cracked by passive resistance slow-downs and non-cooperation.

"What would happen if our nation would today exert the same type of influence in the world that we exerted during the first century of the republic. At that time we symbolized freedom, and we gave moral and sometimes material support to those elsewhere who sought liberty."

The only alternative way to stop Soviet communism, he said, was by a "frightful head-on collision."

Dulles did not spell out details of how to bring about "passive resistance, slow-downs and non-cooperation."

Dulles, who conferred with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in New York city yesterday, said afterward that he believed the Republican presidential candidate agrees that the keystone of U. S. policy should be refusal to recognize Russia's hold on territory acquired by aggression.

The chief architect of the Japanese peace treaty said present foreign policy involved "race discrimination on a global scale" by concentrating on the defense of predominantly-white western Europe.

"That is a wrong policy and, in the face of the Soviet program of encirclement, it is a suicidal policy," he said. "It must be changed."

Henderson Gets Post

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP) — James McInnes Henderson, a native of Daingerfield, Tex., today was named the new director of rent stabilization. Henderson, now general counsel of the Economic Stabilization Agency, succeeds Tighe E. Woods. Woods was moved up yesterday from the rent post to head of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Brooklyn Man, 70, Falls From Truck

Door Swings Open While Vehicle is Making Turn on Strand

James Beil, 70, of 1054 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, a visitor at Connelly, escaped serious injury today when he feil from a truck, the door of which swung open as it turned at East Strand and Gill street.

Beil was treated at Kingston Hospital, where he was taken by ambulance, for a slight contusion of the head, X-rays were taken, and he was discharged.

Police were notified of the mishap at 10:50 a. m., and Officers Edward Leonard and Earl Schoonmaker, who investigated, reported that the truck, owned by Joseph Suskind, of 245 East Strand, and driven by George F. Gardinier, Jr., of 30 Fairmont avenue, was headed east on East Strand and turning left into Gill street.

The door near Beil swung open and he was thrown to the pavement as the truck turned, the officers said.

Reports Are Denied

Bonn, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—American and German officials denied today reports from Madrid that West Germany would turn out modern weapons for Spain's armed forces with the U. S. paying most of the costs. Reliable sources in Madrid said yesterday that negotiations for the manufacture of arms would take place soon in Bonn along with talks on renewal of a 90 million dollar German-Spanish trade pact.

Fifth Halt Called In Truce Talks at Conference Site

Prisoner Exchange Issue Stalemates Advance —Nam Il Blasts at Allies

Munson, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)—United Nations and Communist negotiators today called their fifth straight weeklong recess in the Korean truce talks after a Red propaganda blast over shooting of Communist prisoners in UN POW camps.

The truce teams talked only 33 minutes in a new Red-built conference hut at Panmunjom.

Neither side budged on the prisoner exchange deadlock, final issue blocking an armistice.

At the suggestion of Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN delegate, they recessed until Sept. 4. For the past month, the delegations have met only once a week.

Nam Il Sounds Off

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negatiator, heaped fresh coals on the burning prisoner controversy with a new blast at UN treatment of North Korean and Chinese Communist captives.

He declared that since Aug. 11 the UN have "repeatedly carried out shameless and cowardly slaughters against our captured personnel, resulting in one killed and 52 wounded." He demanded an accounting.

A UN spokesman said a copy of his protest would be sent to UN command headquarters in Tokyo.

The U. S. Eighth Army in Seoul yesterday and today announced that four Red prisoners were killed and 64 wounded or otherwise injured in incidents at UN POW camps in July and August.

Challenges Met

The army said the captives "tried out the nerves of United Nations personnel, making trouble to see what force would be used against them.... We have met every challenge."

The prisoner dispute centers on allied refusal to force back to Red territory thousands of Red captives who have renounced communism.

The Communists want back 116,000 men, including all 20,000 Chinese in UN hands.

The allies offer only 83,000, including 6,400 Chinese. The remaining thousands say they will fight—even to death—any efforts to force them back to North Korea or Red China.

Public Schools Are to Open in City Tuesday, Sept. 2nd

Schedules Are Announced by Supt. Laidlaw for Reporting to All City Schools

All public schools in Kingston will open Tuesday morning, Sept. 2, for the fall term, Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw, announced today.

Students of the elementary schools of the city will begin their classes at 8:45 a. m. that day while seventh and eighth grade students attending the Myron J. Michael School will report at the school auditorium at 8:30 a. m. Kingston High School pupils will report to their home rooms at 8:15 a. m. A shortened schedule will release these students about noon, it was pointed out.

All new students entering KHS for the first time are to report at the high school auditorium at 1 p. m. Sept. 2. This group includes all transfer students from out of town.

In a breakdown of the school system today, Laidlaw issued the following data concerning the elementary school students:

All children entering elementary schools for the first time are required to present a record giving the date of birth. This record shall be either a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, a Bible record or a sworn affidavit. This record will be returned to the parent.

The report added that all children should register on the opening day of school in the district in which the child resides. No exception will be made to this regulation unless by special permission given by the superintendent, Laidlaw stressed. The boundries governing the districts are the same as last year, he said.

Wicks Has Session With Eisenhower At Headquarters

Governor Dewey, Others Discuss Strategy and Plans—Denies Any Advice

State Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, Governor Thomas E. Dewey and a group of prominent state officials met for an hour today in New York with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for president, to discuss plans and strategy for Eisenhower's campaign.

The group included Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, Comptroller J. R. McGovern, Senate Finance Chairman W. J. Mahoney, Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Assembly Majority Leader Lee B. Mailler, Attorney General Nathaniel Golstein, and D. Mallory Stephens, chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Held at Headquarters

The meeting was held at Eisenhower's headquarters in the Hotel Commodore at 10 a. m. today. Senator Wicks went there from Albany where he met yesterday with the Republican State Committee which nominated Irving M. Ives, of Norwich for another six-year term in the U. S. Senate and selected 45 GOP presidential electors for the November election.

The governor, twice a loser himself in presidential races, told reporters he offered Eisenhower no advice on how the general should campaign this time, the Associated Press reported.

But Dewey said:

"I'm going to do everything I can to carry the state of New York. I'm going to carry any water and run any errands."

He said that, "goodness, no," he

Report Says Pro-Red Writers Spread Story on TV, Radio

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—A senate subcommittee report said today that pro-Communist script writers are spreading "subtle" propaganda over the nation's radio and television airwaves.

"The thing is subtle," the report of the Senate Internal Security sub-committe quoted script writer Ruth Adams Knight as testifying at closed door hearings.

Miss Knight, denouncing Communists and Communism, said pro-Communist script writers stop short of "laying down the party line" in their program scripts, but skillfully weave into them "a constant derision of the capitalistic system."

They aim, she said, at "the simple people who listen to the radio, who would turn off outright Communist propaganda."

In question-and-answer testimony quoted by the subcommittee, Miss Knight, New York, and Welbourn E. Kelley, New York, denounced Ira Marion, a one-time script writer for Voice of America anti-Communist propaganda broadcasts beamed to Israel. Both swore that in private life Marion is an identifiable pro-Communist.

The subcommittee in its own findings, however, treated the voice broadcasts cautiously. It said simply that members of the radio writers guild, of which Marion is a former president, "write for the Voice of America and the

'School's Open' Safety Drive To Begin in City Thursday

The Automobile Club of New York's seventh annual "School's Open" traffic safety campaign will get under way officially Thursday at 10:30 a. m. when Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly attaches the first campaign poster on a pole outside of city hall. Kelly will be joined by Edward J. Capillo, assistant director of traffic engineering and safety of the auto club, and local school and police officials.

The striking poster carries the message "School's Open — Drive Carefully" within a background of red and green traffic lights. More than 20,000 will be displayed in the metropolitan New York area during September and October, 437 of them in Ulster county.

Some 28,000 "School's Open" bumper strips will also be displayed on police and other official vehicles and on school buses and trucks in cities in the auto club's area.

Pointing out the effectiveness of these annual safety campaigns, the auto club reported that both in 1950 and 1951 there were only 10 pedestrian traffic fatalities in the entire state among children of elementary school age during the two opening school months, as compared with 18 during September and October in 1949. It also noted that 15 fewer children in the 5-to-14 age group were injured during September and October, 1951, than in the corresponding months of 1950 when the total was

Would Disintegrate Soviets by Action Within Nations Affected

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—John Foster Dulles today rapped American foreign policy as "suicidal" and proposed a plan to disintegrate "the empire of Soviet Communism" from within.

The Republican foreign policy adviser delivered his sharp attack in an address prepared for delivery before the American Political Science Association.

He called upon the United States to pay more attention to the peoples and problems of Asia, Africa and South America and to abandon as a failure its program of "containing" Communism.

"The empire of Sovict Communism can be disintegrated from within," Dulles said, adding:

Sees Over-Extension

"Already it is over-extended, covering 800 million people of what were recently 19 different independent nations. The structure could be cracked by passive resistance slow-downs and non-cooperation.

"What would happen if our nation would today exert the same type of influence in the world that we exerted during the first century of the republic. At that time we symbolized freedom, and we gave moral and sometimes material support to those elsewhere who sought liberty."

The only alternative way to stop Soviet communism, he said, was by a "frightful head-on collision."

Dulles did not spell out details of how to bring about "passive resistance, slow-downs and non-cooperation."

Dulles, who conferred with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in New York city yesterday, said afterward that he believed the Republican presidential candidate agrees that the keystone of U. S. policy should be refusal to recognize Russia's hold on territory acquired by aggression.

The chief architect of the Japanese peace treaty said present foreign policy involved "race discrimination on a global scale" by concentrating on the defense of predominantly-white western Europe.

"That is a wrong policy and, in the face of the Soviet program of encirclement, it is a suicidal policy," he said. "It must be changed."

Fifth Halt Called In Truce Talks at Conference Site

Prisoner Exchange Issue Stalemates Advance —Nam Il Blasts at Allies

Munson, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)—United Nations and Communist negotiators today called their fifth straight weeklong recess in the Korean truce talks after a Red propaganda blast over shooting of Communist prisoners in UN POW camps.

The truce teams talked only 33 minutes in a new Red-built conference hut at Panmunjom.

Neither side budged on the prisoner exchange deadlock, final issue blocking an armistice.

At the suggestion of Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN delegate, they recessed until Sept. 4. For the past month, the delegations have met only once a week.

Nam Il Sounds Off

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negatiator, heaped fresh coals on the burning prisoner controversy with a new blast at UN treatment of North Korean and Chinese Communist captives.

He declared that since Aug. 11 the UN have "repeatedly carried out shameless and cowardly slaughters against our captured personnel, resulting in one killed and 52 wounded." He demanded an accounting.

A UN spokesman said a copy of his protest would be sent to UN command headquarters in Tokyo.

The U. S. Eighth Army in Seoul yesterday and today announced that four Red prisoners were killed and 64 wounded or otherwise injured in incidents at UN POW camps in July and August.

Challenges Met

The army said the captives "tried out the nerves of United Nations personnel, making trouble to see what force would be used against them.... We have met every challenge."

The prisoner dispute centers on allied refusal to force back to Red territory thousands of Red captives who have renounced communism.

The Communists want back 116,000 men, including all 20,000 Chinese in UN hands.

The allies offer only 83,000, including 6,400 Chinese. The remaining thousands say they will fight—even to death—any efforts to force them back to North Korea or Red China.

Public Schools Are to Open in City Tuesday, Sept. 2nd

Schedules Are Announced by Supt. Laidlaw for Reporting to All City Schools

All public schools in Kingston will open Tuesday morning, Sept. 2, for the fall term, Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw, announced today.

Students of the elementary schools of the city will begin their classes at 8:45 a. m. that day while seventh and eighth grade students attending the Myron J. Michael School will report at the school auditorium at 8:30 a. m. Kingston High School pupils will report to their home rooms at 8:15 a. m. A shortened schedule will release these students about noon, it was pointed out.

In a breakdown of the school system today, Laidlaw issued the following data concerning the elementary school students:

All children entering elementary schools for the first time are required to present a record giving the date of birth. This record shall be either a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, a Bible record or a sworn affidavit. This record will be returned to the parent.

The report added that all children should register on the opening day of school in the district in which the child resides. No exception will be made to this regulation unless by special permission given by the superintendent, Laidlaw stressed. The boundries governing the districts are the same as last year, he said.

Wicks Has Session With Eisenhower At Headquarters

Governor Dewey, Others Discuss Strategy and Plans—Denies Any Advice

State Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, Governor Thomas E. Dewey and a group of prominent state officials met for an hour today in New York with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for president, to discuss plans and strategy for Eisenhower's campaign.

The group included Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, Comptroller J. R. McGovern, Senate Finance Chairman W. J. Mahoney, Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Assembly Majority Leader Lee B. Mailler, Attorney General Nathaniel Golstein, and D. Mallory Stephens, chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Held at Headquarters

The meeting was held at Eisenhower's headquarters in the Hotel Commodore at 10 a. m. today. Senator Wicks went there from Albany where he met yesterday with the Republican State Committee which nominated Irving M. Ives, of Norwich for another six-year term in the U. S. Senate and selected 45 GOP presidential electors for the November election.

The governor, twice a loser himself in presidential races, told reporters he offered Eisenhower no advice on how the general should campaign this time, the Associated Press reported.

But Dewey said:

"I'm going to do everything I can to carry the state of New York. I'm going to carry any water and run any errands."

He said that, "goodness, no," he

Reports Are Denied

Bonn, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—American and German officials denied today reports from Madrid that West Germany would turn out modern weapons for Spain's armed forces with the U. S. paying most of the costs. Reliable sources in Madrid said yesterday that negotiations for the manufacture of arms would take place soon in Bonn along with talks on renewal of a 90 million dollar German-Spanish trade pact.

Report Says Pro-Red Writers Spread Story on TV, Radio

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—A senate subcommittee report said today that pro-Communist script writers are spreading "subtle" propaganda over the nation's radio and television airwaves.

"The thing is subtle," the report of the Senate Internal Security sub-committe quoted script writer Ruth Adams Knight as testifying at closed door hearings.

Miss Knight, denouncing Communists and Communism, said pro-Communist script writers stop short of "laying down the party line" in their program scripts, but skillfully weave into them "a constant derision of the capitalistic system."

They aim, she said, at "the simple people who listen to the radio, who would turn off outright Communist propaganda."

In question-and-answer testimony quoted by the subcommittee, Miss Knight, New York, and Welbourn E. Kelley, New York, denounced Ira Marion, a one-time script writer for Voice of America anti-Communist propaganda broadcasts beamed to Israel. Both swore that in private life Marion is an identifiable pro-Communist.

The subcommittee in its own findings, however, treated the voice broadcasts cautiously. It said simply that members of the radio writers guild, of which Marion is a former president, "write for the Voice of America and the

The Automobile Club of New York's seventh annual "School's Open" traffic safety campaign will get under way officially Thursday at 10:30 a. m. when Acting Mayor Joseph Kelly attaches the first campaign poster on a pole outside of city hall. Kelly will be joined by Edward J. Capillo, assistant director of traffic engineering and safety of the auto club, and local school and police officials.

The striking poster carries the message "School's Open — Drive Carefully" within a background of red and green traffic lights. More than 20,000 will be displayed in the metropolitan New York area during September and October, 437 of them in Ulster County.

Some 28,000 "School's Open" bumper strips will also be displayed on police and other official vehicles and on school buses and trucks in cities in the auto club's area.

Pointing out the effectiveness of these annual safety campaigns, the auto club reported that both in 1950 and 1951 there were only 10 pedestrian traffic fatalities in the entire state among children of elementary school age during the two opening school months, as compared with 18 during September and October in 1949. It also noted that 15 fewer children in the 5-to-14 age group were injured during September and October, 1951, than in the corresponding months of 1950 when the total was

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Playhouse Finale Is Witty Comedy

Woodstock, Aug. 27—For Love or Money, the final offering of the Woodstock Playhouse for this season is a witty, sophisticated romp through the private life of a successful matinee idol. Preston Mitchell wears a martyr's snugly fitting halo shining after 10 long years of devotion to an invalid wife. Her departure from this life three days prior to the opening of the curtain leaves Mitchell her attractive, "middle aged" actor husband to the self-appointed ministrations of his neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Tremaine, their son, Bill, and Mrs. Early his inquisitive housekeeper. Wilbur, his monosyllabic houseman and valet has a better understanding of his needs.

Mitchell's life also is cluttered with the devotions of his leading lady, Nita Havemeyer, and the problems of being godfather to the rapacious Bill Tremaine out on the prowel for his prey. Out of the storm, through the wail of the seagulls comes Janet Blake, luscious with the kindly unmarred philosophy of Edgar Guest, but belligerently wise as a sage as to the foibles of "some men."

Mitchell's invitation to Janet to stay on and reform him throws the assorted plans for his future completely out of gear, and the resultant jolts bring on a series of merry situations.

Mitchell is played with smooth precision by Gordon Mills, a suave foil for the bouncing animation of Pat Sales as Janet Blake, "pudgy" but with a gift of knowing laughter. Robert Baines conveys exactly the right shade of callow verve to the omnipresent Bill Tremaine, and Edith Gresham as his chattering, over-solicitious mother reflects the attitudes of the public on Mitchell's behavior, Franklyn Fox, her husband, in his few brief moments is practically the silent partner but as always completely expressive, with eyebrow and drumming fingers.

Ends on High Note

Phyllis Hill, as Nita Havemeyer is stunning and coolly assured, reviving happy memories and appropriate lines. Molly Lyman, as Mrs. Early, hovers with inquistive concern over her master, while Richard Shankland as Wilbur handles a masterpiece of minding his own business.

Robert H. Harris, Playhouse director, has concluded a highly gratifying season of summer theatre on a high note of welcome divertissement and consistently good entertainment.

Cage Concert Is Scheduled Friday

Woodstock, Aug. 27—John Cage, the experimental composer who has been described by music critic Virgil Thomson as "the master of a school of music unique in the western world," will give a lecture-recital Friday at 8:15 p. m., at the Maverick Concert Hall, assisted by pianist David Tudor.

The concert is sponsored by the Woodstock Artists Association.

Cage has made musical history writing for a "prepared piano" complete with nuts, bolts, screws and pennies. A former student of Henry Cowell and Arnold Schoenberg, among others, Cage is known for his exploration into the realm of percussive sounds, both those produced in the usual manner by percussive instruments, and those produced in his own special way, through mutations of the modern piano.

'Exotic Sounds'

To the audience, the prepared piano looks like any conventional Steinway grand, but when the keys are struck the result is a series of sounds which have been described as "exotic," "startlingly different and exciting," "of distinctly Eastern character."

Discussing five Cage sonatas, the Belgian poet Leon A. Kochnitzky wrote for Tigers Eye: "Some are pervaded with the scent of oriental gardens, and perhaps you will recognize in them a softened echo of the sweet-tinkling Indonesian Gemelang. Two others are built on melodic figures that belong to the European tradition. One of them, especially, is inspired by the rhythmical group so often used by Bach and Rameau, which was known in the 18th century as Alla Francese. It is an authentic masterpiece."

The program will be half concert and half lecture-demonstration. Works by Cage, Pierre Boulez, Morton Feldman and Christian Wolff will be played.

Lou Harrison, composer and critic, describing Mr. Cage's compositional ideas, has said:

"Mr. Cage is throughly twentieth century and has had the brilliant idea that just as we live nowadays—getting places on time, checking radio and entertainment time by the second, and depending for communication on various time concepts—so must his musical subjects live. They arrive at timed cadences—really timed to the clock—they exchange greetings at temporal intersections; and meet cheerfully at appointed places.

"And too, like most modern persons, his subjects enjoy the stranger arriving late on the scene for in almost all of his major productions one or two sounds are reserved for a dramatic entry just before all the rest have become too familiar."

Born in California, Cage spent years in research and experiments in sonorities. His ballet The Seasons with choreography by Merce Cunningham was well received by the critics. His published works include Amores, Sonatas and Interludes, a suite for dances, and a string quartet. He is now engaged in creating "synthetic" music—sounds created not from known instruments but from other sources, mainly electronic.

Score Wins First Prize

Tudor, praised by the New York Times as "that pianist extraordinary," has given recitals of contemporary piano music in New York, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, the University of Colorado, and Black Mountain College. He has appeared on numerous programs sponsored by composer's groups and contemporary music societies. The Herald Tribune called his playing "astonishingly expert and understanding."

Patrons for the concert Friday include, in addition to the Woodstock Artist Association: Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Berkowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cowell, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Crampton, Dr. and Mrs. Hans Cohn, Mr. and Mrs. Roland d'Albis, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Henrotte, Dr. and Mrs. William M. Hitzig, Mrs. Charles Rosen, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Rugg, Mr. and Mrs. John Striebel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mele, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Thibaut, Jr., Capt. C. H. D. van der Loo, and Miss Alice Wardwell.

Mrs. Emmet Edwards was in charge of preliminary arrangements for the concert.

Legion Meets Thursday

Woodstock, Aug. 27—A regular meeting of Woodstock Post, No. 1026, American Legion, will be held in the clubhouse, Thursday, at 8 p. m.

Group Holds Picnic

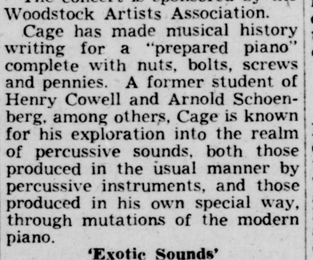

Woodstock, Aug. 27—The Woodstock Historical Society held its annual August picnic at the Saw Mill in Shady Friday afternoon, through the kindness of Craig Vosburgh. A lecture on his recollections of the Hudson River valley by James Pond, whose father, the noted Major Pond was the close friend and lecture manager for Mark Twain. Through the elder Pond Twain knew and loved the Catskill Mountain region, according to Pond.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Aug. 27—Mr. and Mrs. John Feeley visited their daughter Gale Feeley, Monday, at the Peekskill Hospital where she was taken early Sunday following an auto accident on the Taconic Parkway at 3 a. m. Miss Feeley, according to her parents, is recovering from facial cuts.

Miss Grace and Miss May Buckley are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Feeley for several weeks, and Mrs. Feeley's brother Donald Downer and his son, Donald, Jr., will arrive from the U. S. Marine Base at Pendleton, Calif., for a visit. Also expected for the weekend is Mrs. P. O'Brien, the former Lee Downer.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Playhouse Finale Is Witty Comedy

Woodstock, Aug. 27—For Love or Money, the final offering of the Woodstock Playhouse for this season is a witty, sophisticated romp through the private life of a successful matinee idol. Preston Mitchell wears a martyr's snugly fitting halo shining after 10 long years of devotion to an invalid wife. Her departure from this life three days prior to the opening of the curtain leaves Mitchell her attractive, "middle aged" actor husband to the self-appointed ministrations of his neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Tremaine, their son, Bill, and Mrs. Early his inquisitive housekeeper. Wilbur, his monosyllabic houseman and valet has a better understanding of his needs.

Mitchell's life also is cluttered with the devotions of his leading lady, Nita Havemeyer, and the problems of being godfather to the rapacious Bill Tremaine out on the prowel for his prey. Out of the storm, through the wail of the seagulls comes Janet Blake, luscious with the kindly unmarred philosophy of Edgar Guest, but belligerently wise as a sage as to the foibles of "some men."

Mitchell's invitation to Janet to stay on and reform him throws the assorted plans for his future completely out of gear, and the resultant jolts bring on a series of merry situations.

Mitchell is played with smooth precision by Gordon Mills, a suave foil for the bouncing animation of Pat Sales as Janet Blake, "pudgy" but with a gift of knowing laughter. Robert Baines conveys exactly the right shade of callow verve to the omnipresent Bill Tremaine, and Edith Gresham as his chattering, over-solicitious mother reflects the attitudes of the public on Mitchell's behavior, Franklyn Fox, her husband, in his few brief moments is practically the silent partner but as always completely expressive, with eyebrow and drumming fingers.

Ends on High Note

Phyllis Hill, as Nita Havemeyer is stunning and coolly assured, reviving happy memories and appropriate lines. Molly Lyman, as Mrs. Early, hovers with inquistive concern over her master, while Richard Shankland as Wilbur handles a masterpiece of minding his own business.

Robert H. Harris, Playhouse director, has concluded a highly gratifying season of summer theatre on a high note of welcome divertissement and consistently good entertainment.

Cage Concert Is Scheduled Friday

Woodstock, Aug. 27—John Cage, the experimental composer who has been described by music critic Virgil Thomson as "the master of a school of music unique in the western world," will give a lecture-recital Friday at 8:15 p. m., at the Maverick Concert Hall, assisted by pianist David Tudor.

The concert is sponsored by the Woodstock Artists Association.

Cage has made musical history writing for a "prepared piano" complete with nuts, bolts, screws and pennies. A former student of Henry Cowell and Arnold Schoenberg, among others, Cage is known for his exploration into the realm of percussive sounds, both those produced in the usual manner by percussive instruments, and those produced in his own special way, through mutations of the modern piano.

'Exotic Sounds'

To the audience, the prepared piano looks like any conventional Steinway grand, but when the keys are struck the result is a series of sounds which have been described as "exotic," "startlingly different and exciting," "of distinctly Eastern character."

Discussing five Cage sonatas, the Belgian poet Leon A. Kochnitzky wrote for Tigers Eye: "Some are pervaded with the scent of oriental gardens, and perhaps you will recognize in them a softened echo of the sweet-tinkling Indonesian Gemelang. Two others are built on melodic figures that belong to the European tradition. One of them, especially, is inspired by the rhythmical group so often used by Bach and Rameau, which was known in the 18th century as Alla Francese. It is an authentic masterpiece."

The program will be half concert and half lecture-demonstration. Works by Cage, Pierre Boulez, Morton Feldman and Christian Wolff will be played.

Lou Harrison, composer and critic, describing Mr. Cage's compositional ideas, has said:

"Mr. Cage is throughly twentieth century and has had the brilliant idea that just as we live nowadays—getting places on time, checking radio and entertainment time by the second, and depending for communication on various time concepts—so must his musical subjects live. They arrive at timed cadences—really timed to the clock—they exchange greetings at temporal intersections; and meet cheerfully at appointed places.

"And too, like most modern persons, his subjects enjoy the stranger arriving late on the scene for in almost all of his major productions one or two sounds are reserved for a dramatic entry just before all the rest have become too familiar."

Born in California, Cage spent years in research and experiments in sonorities. His ballet The Seasons with choreography by Merce Cunningham was well received by the critics. His published works include Amores, Sonatas and Interludes, a suite for dances, and a string quartet. He is now engaged in creating "synthetic" music—sounds created not from known instruments but from other sources, mainly electronic.

Score Wins First Prize

Tudor, praised by the New York Times as "that pianist extraordinary," has given recitals of contemporary piano music in New York, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, the University of Colorado, and Black Mountain College. He has appeared on numerous programs sponsored by composer's groups and contemporary music societies. The Herald Tribune called his playing "astonishingly expert and understanding."

Patrons for the concert Friday include, in addition to the Woodstock Artist Association: Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Berkowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cowell, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Crampton, Dr. and Mrs. Hans Cohn, Mr. and Mrs. Roland d'Albis, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Henrotte, Dr. and Mrs. William M. Hitzig, Mrs. Charles Rosen, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Rugg, Mr. and Mrs. John Striebel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mele, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Thibaut, Jr., Capt. C. H. D. van der Loo, and Miss Alice Wardwell.

Mrs. Emmet Edwards was in charge of preliminary arrangements for the concert.

STALIN'S MANTLE

For nearly three decades Joseph Stalin has ruled Russia and served as the high priest of international Communism. In the free world his name has become a synonym for the tyranny and aggression of a Godless state. Now there seems to be indication that he will soon step aside for a younger successor. Some observers believe that Georgi Malenkov will inherit the mantle of Lenin and Stalin when the Communist Party Congress convenes in Moscow on October 5.

If this should prove to be the case there will be no cause for optimism in the western world. Malenkov is a younger edition of Stalin, less brilliant and resourceful perhaps, but no less dedicated to the ideals of the Communist Party. Malenkov has modeled himself after his idol, Stalin, and has evidenced an intense hatred of the West and everything it stands for.

For some time students of Russian affairs have speculated as to what would happen should Stalin die in power. At Lenin's death in 1924 there was a wild scramble for the leadership and after bloody purges and much intrigue Stalin emerged as dictator. By handing the reins over to Malenkov during his lifetime Stalin may think he can avoid chaos in Russia after his death.

At 73 Stalin has outlived most of the revolutionaries who were his associates and comrades of his youth. He has lived to see himself become a myth among his people. Few men in history have had as great an opportunity to accomplish good and few have been responsible for so much evil and bloodshed. Whether he steps aside now or dies in office his career cannot have much longer to run. Unfortunately tyranny can outlive tyrants.

LAWS AND LOBBIES

Over 800 individuals and firms have registered as lobbyists in accordance with terms of the lobbying act. These individuals and firms must list their expenditures and while some of them spend freely others carry on their business of trying to influence legislation on an amazingly small budget.

The lobbyist has always been something of a bogeyman to many people. Lobbying conjures up pictures of lavish expenditures in an attempt to buy favors. There have been occasions when special interest groups used large sums to gain particular ends but for the most part lobbyists represent groups which have a legal right to approach legislators and carry out their business legally.

The grocer, the butcher, the laborer and the manufacturer all have an interest in what laws are passed. Lobbyists make the wishes of those they represent clear to Congressmen. There are good and bad lobbyists. But the lobbying act has made all lobbyists come out in the open and admit their purpose and what they spend to accomplish it.

THE BEST CHECK

In recent years the federal government has taken over many of the functions which were traditionally believed to be the province of the states. Many good Americans view this situation with alarm and there is some evidence that their fears are justified. It is easier for a citizen to keep a check on administration and expenditures which are made within his own state.

But very often the federal government has taken over functions which the states had ignored or performed badly. There, perhaps, is the answer to the problem of how to check growing federal power. If the states were to pay strict attention to the business of meeting their own problems, without looking to the federal government to take over the unpleasant or expensive tasks, there might be no excuse or reason for further federal intervention in state business. States' rights can never be preserved without full realization of states' responsibilities.

Despite our prosperity—despite more people having more of everything these days—America's energies still face challenges. Nearly five million persons are on relief rolls—five million reasons for spreading our gains into more and more homes across the country.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE STANDARD CATALOGUE

It took a long time to convince our military men that while the citizens are willing to pay heavily for the defense of their country, they cannot condone wilful extravagance. The idea of a universal standard catalogue to apply to all services is so logical, so reasonable that it was never understandable why anyone should have opposed it. Yet, for years the military fought it and an attempt to creat such a catalogue by a committee appointed by the Department of Defense was operated at such a snail's pace that many inferred that either those in charge were inefficient or that the project was being sabotaged.

Now Congress has acted. Public Law 436 sets up a standard catalogue, provides a director and deputy director to supervise it, and requires reports every six months. Little is left to chance.

The law requires:

". . . There shall be a single catalogue, which may consist of a number of volumes, sections, or supplements, in which all items of supply shall be included and in which there shall appear information on each item needed for supply operations such as descriptive and performance data, size, weight, cubage, packaging or packing data, a standard quantitative measurement unit, and such other related data as is determined by the director of the agency to be necessary or desirable.

"In supply standardization, it shall be the duty of the agency to achieve the highest practicable degree possible in the standardization of items used throughout the Department of Defense, through the development and use of single specifications, in the elimination of overlapping and duplicating item specifications, and in the reduction of the number of sizes, kinds, or types of generally similar items. The greatest practicable degree of standardization of methods of packing, packaging, and preservation of such items shall be achieved, together with the most efficient use of services and facilities concerned with the inspection, testing and acceptance of such items."

It ought now not to be possible for each Department of Defense to pay a different price for the identical commodity simply by calling it a different name. It ought to be possible to keep crooks, fixers, middlemen out of the supply business. The reputable houses do not want any of the little tricks that have been employed by five percenters or ten percenters or Washington lawyers to get contracts. They are generally not set up for transactions which involve unusual bookkeeping processes. They do not wish to be involved in Congressional investigations which reflect upon their integrity. They have usually favored the Standardized Catalogue. The opposition to the Standardized Catalogue has come from chiselers.

Our government is not very efficient because it has lived long on easy money. Extravagances were not felt by the people, but today when about 40 cents out of every earned dollar goes to taxes, it is a different story. The President, in other days, announced an emergency and the taxpayer agreed to almost anything. Such senators as Robert A. Taft and Harry F. Byrd were smeared and denounced because they demanded cuts in budgets which were puffed up to provide for a possible cut. The full force of government press agents was employed to falsify the record of a senator who went along 90 per cent, because the administration wanted 100 per cent.

The Hoover Commission established beyond question the waste. Congressional committees even found corruption. The Hoover Commission was not concerned with corruption; it sought efficiency; the elimination of duplication; the institution of modern methods of accountancy. It fought waste.

The Standardized Catalogue was proposed by the Hoover Commission. It is a step toward a more efficient handling of the people's money.

Another step needs to be taken. After World War II, billions of dollars of materiel, from Bibles to tanks, were thrown away, some into the sea. It was suggested at the time that it would wreck our economy if such commodities were resold as salvage. The disposal of used and even unused materiel by our military forces at the end of a war is wasteful, extravagant, even profligate. All the data on the subject is not available, but there are plenty of eye-witness and collateral accounts.

A Congressional committee ought to go into this matter now; investigate it thoroughly; set up a program for the disposal of such goods by the Army, Navy, and Air Force, which would protect the money of the American taxpayer.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS IN RHEUMATIC FEVER

It has often been truthfully stated that rheumatic fever is childhood's greatest enemy. It is also a great enemy of young adults and on up to middle age. Rheumatic fever is often followed by heart disease. Each attack of rheumatic fever weakens the heart and after several attacks of rheumaic fever, the heart is so weakened that death may occur before middle age.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Arild E. Hansen, Galveston, Texas, states that the fundamental cause of rheumatic fever remains obscure; nevertheless, progress is being made in conquering this disease, a leading killer of school-age children and a leading cause of heart crippling in youth and young adults. The significant observation that active rheumatic involvment may be "nipped in the bud" by the early administration of corticotropin (ACTH) or Cortisone places even greater responsibility on the practicing physician. "Practically all children acutely ill with rheumatic fever are first seen in the home or office; hence the path is clear—every physician who sees children in his everyday practice must be thoroughly familiar with all the aspects of acute rheumatic fever and must be constantly on the alert for its occurrence."

The peak age of onset of rheumatic fever is about six to eight years although it occurs throughout school age (five to 15 years).

Pain is an outstanding symptom, usually in the joints or the tissues adjoining the joints—ligaments and ends of muscles—but may occur in the abdomen, chest and various muscle groups. The old definition of rheumatic fever as "pain, redness and swelling" is still true. Another common sign is that more than one joint or group of muscles may be attacked at the one time (polyarthritis).

"The rheumatic pain is present often on awakening in the morning and frequently causes the child to limp but tends to disappear in the evening when the child is in bed."

Pains due to fatigue are common in young children, become worse when the child retires and are improved when the painful region is massaged.

Because heart disease so often accompanies and follows rheumatic fever, physicians always watch for evidences of heart disturbances, rhythm, murmurs and other sound changes.

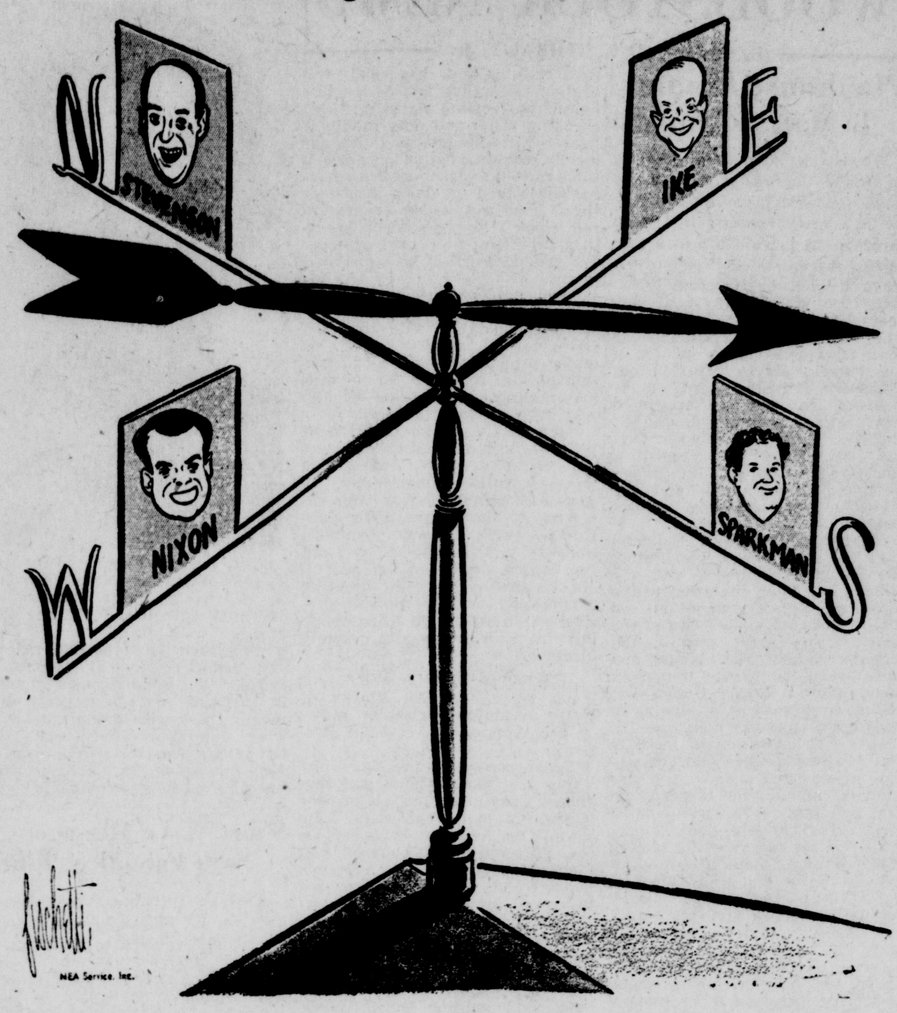

In regard to pain, Dr. Hansen suggests that a general rule might be that whenever a child of school age complains of pain, serious thought should be given to rheumatic fever being the cause and bed rest immediateiy prescribed.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

CHARLES F. HORNE

(Note to Editors: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Charles F. Horne, civil aeronautics administrator, U. S. Department of Commerce.)

Washington — It's late on a dark and stormy night. The place, an airport at Paris, Rome, Cairo, or in the Far East. Passengers are watching the wind and rain beat against the windows of the airplane when they notice the stewardess unlock the door to the pilot's compartment and a man in a business suit enter. He sits on the "jump seat," and as the plane takes off, checks all phases of the flight to determine whether safety standards for operation and maintenance of U. S. flag carriers are being observed.

In aircraft plants throughout the United States, other CAA safety agents constantly inspect pieces of fabricated equipment to determine whether they meet the safety specifications set by the CAA.

A year ago artillery-shell fire struck the U. S. Embassy in Bangkok, Thailand, as insurgent naval officers revolted and attempted to establish a new government. In the hostilities which followed there were approximately 3,000 casualties and the U. S. Embassy was struck four times by artillery-shell fire and about 100 times by small-arms fire. All normal communications were cut off and the stand-by generator at the embassy would not work. U. S. commercial aircraft were en route to Thailand, and there was no way either to warn them off or to notify the Department of State and military authorities in Washington.

The head of the CAA International Region Office in Bangkok made a dramatic night dash under fire through the front lines of the opposing forces to an aeronautical radio station which was situated within the Thai naval compound. Although stopped and forced to leave his vehicle, the CAA representative managed to talk his way into the radio station. There he warned off and diverted all U. S. commercial aircraft, and transmitted the first word of the uprising to reach the outside world.

Saving Lives

It is rarely, of course, that CAA personnel have to operate under gunfire, but they do cope with an amazing variety of emergencies in order to make flying the routinely safe experience it is for the average American. In flight-testing the competency of applicants for airman certificates, CAA safety agents frequently must cut one of an airplane's two engines, to see whether the pilot reacts promptly and correctly. If he does, he gets the CAA certificate which is an assurance of safety to the public. If he doesn't the CAA agent has to move fast to save his neck.

Reports in our files show that in 23 test incidents, quick thinking by CAA safety agents saved almost half a million dollars worth of airplanes and the lives of 60 persons. A typical, terse report is that on case 8-100-0:

"Air transport rating applicant in DC-3. Making low approach with left engine out. Over airport at 900 feet, hood was removed and applicant started turn to left. Suddenly changed mind and rolled aircraft into an R turn. Airplane spun to right. Coordinated efforts of company check pilot and agent stopped spin and recovered. Barograph in airplane showed recovery was 50 feet above level of airport."

A majority of the CAA "saves," however, are achieved by CAA ground personnel, who man the more than 70,000 mile network of Federal Airways. From their post in communications stations, control towers and control centers, they have "talked down" hundreds of lost pilots. Although the highways of the sky are clearly marked by CAA radio beams, every now and then some pilot will become confused.

Then CAA communicators or controllers go to work as they did when a night-flying National Guard pilot contacted our Macon, Ga., radio during a thunderstorm and reported his position unknown. The communicator thought of the searchlight used to advertise a drive-in theatre. He asked the operator to leave the searchlight on. The pilot finally saw the beam, determined his position, and proceeded to a safe landing.

All branches of the military depend heavily on CAA services, particularly on its air navigation and traffic control facilities which for the last four years, have been improved and operated under a "commo system" concept. Thus, the air defense command uses information obtained and correlated by CAA to identify friendly aircraft flying in our coastal and border defense zones, so that it can "scramble" interceptors against unidentified targets appearing on radar or reported by ground observers.

On the civil defense side, CAA has worked closely with state and local officials to plan for the effective use of smaller airplanes. How these can be marshalled in an emergency was demonstrated at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where 309 private air planes hauled 110,000 pounds of simulated supplies into the "stricken" city within two hours after a mock attack. While we all pray that this type of disaster will not occur, it is good to know that airplanes can and do perform such mercy missions when midwestern rivers overflow, or when areas of the northwest are isolated by a blizzard.

The airplane has an important humanitarian role to play in our world relations, too, and CAA is proud to have participated in one of its first such demonstrations. When locusts threatened the food supplies of Iran in 1951, CAA experts assisted the Department of State in rushing two four-engine planes, one loaded with small spray planes, the other with pilots and spray liquid, to the endangered area. They beat off the insect plague, and set a pattern which promises to help wipe out hunger, and thereby remove a major cause of wars.

But while CAA activities overseas tend to be more spectacular—witness the recent episode involving our safety agents who worked with the CAB and the Brazilian government to investigate an accident in the heart of the jungle—the day-to-day activities of CAA people are concerned more with the safety of the 23,000,000 passengers who ride our domestic airlines and of the people who fly our 60,000 civil aircraft.

Any time of day or night you are likely to see a CAA safety agent board an airliner in the United States, and make the same kind of "en route" inspection that is conducted on our carriers abroad.

At the same time, CAA, "range riders of the sky," more prosaically described as airway patrol pilots, may be check-flying the courses of a radio range, or the accuracy of instrument landing radio beam, to make sure that all pilots can follow them with confidence. Three of these range riders gave their lives in 1948, when they crashed into mountains near Ward, Colorado, apparently as a result of extreme turbulence in the area.

But it is because of their work and the work of other CAA employes that United States civil aviation has been able to set world records for safety. You can board an airliner today with less risk than you can drive you car, thanks to the teamwork of government and industry in the field of civil aviation.

Lost $850,000 on Turn of a Card!

William Northmore (1690-1735) of Okehampton, England, greattest gambler of his time, lost a sum equal to $850,000 on the turn of a single card. He was so distressed by this loss that he gave up gambling. He was elected to parliament through the sympathy of the voters and served from 1714 to 1735.

Eisenhower's Sincerity Might Offset With Voters His Lack of Political Knowledge

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 27—What has been happening to General Eisenhower since he became a candidate for the presidency is a very interesting story of the inner conflict between a fine character of high principle and the complexities of modern politics.

It presents a paradox which probably has no parallel in political history.

It explains why, on the one hand, the general is disappointing the professional political groups and seemingly making mistakes which mean a loss of votes, and yet, on the other hand, why that very weakness may turn out to be a point of strength with a good many voters.

General Eisenhower resembles the average man more than he does a political leader. He likes to say what he feels and to express it in ordinary words. What comes out in his extemporaneous speeches is what he feels in his heart. He is earnest, sincere, forthright in expressing what he believes are fundamentals. Persons who hear him feel they have listened to a man who is basically honest and, if elected, would do an honest job. He would get all sides of a controversy. He would do what he thought was fair and for the best interests of the country when he made a decision.

Yet, when General Eisenhower says things like that in his speeches, they come out in the form of phrases that in cold print look like platitudes. They are unexciting words. They are words that appear to contain nothing new. But there is something new in them—a profound sincerity which is all too rare among public men not only in this country but throughout the world.

The art of politics has become the art of doubletalk. The revulsion of feeling in America today against the politician as such is intense. A candidate for public office who, through "ghost written" speeches, balances his phrases nicely will fool lots of people. But in many a congressional district it has happened that a candidate who says simple truths often beats out the experienced campaigner.

Here is the type of speech which, in effect, Eisenhower is trying to make, though he hasn't gotten his idea across except to small delegations:

"I am not a politician. I don't want to go into politics. I am now being told to say this or that on public questions. I know that nobody can possibly know in advance of election all the facts and all the points that come up when a big question of policy has to be decided. I don't know the answers now. I doubt if anybody does. But I promise you one thing: In trying to get those answers, I'll do what any honest man would do—get all the facts and then be fair in deciding what to do about them. If I find any crooks in the government service, I won't wast any time firing them, nor will I let the grafters get in.

"I'm just as sore as you are that the government has had its scandals. I don't think they should have waited for committees of Congress to investigate and then clean up the mess. It's the business of the executive branch of our government to see to it that there isn't any mess there for Congress to investigate.

"These scandals touch you and me—they're a matter of common honesty, and no amount of statistics saying that only a small per cent are crooked wipes away the fact that we must not let anybody at all fix taxes or fix government officials and get favors by buying influence or pull with mink coats or any other kind of bribe."

Maybe that kind of speech would make more sense than a lot of high-sounding phrases about "corruption" and "moral turpitude" and other highbrow words. The average voter may see in Eisenhower a simple man like himself—not too skilled in phrase making, but honest-minded and ready to call the shots as he sees them.

Maybe if General Eisenhower said frankly a few things about the issues that are paramount and left the minor ones alone, he would make more progress, particularly if he can find a way to bring his magnetic personality closer to the people. For what counts in Eisenhower is his simplicity and candor. He isn't a slick politician or a slick lawyer or a slick user of words. He's just a good public servant with an excellent mind and executive ability, a high sense of duty, and a conscience which tells him that political expediency is often dishonest and that sincerity is the only thing he can offer in its place.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations have had the effrontery to invite the two candidates for the presidency of this Socialist republic to come, hat-in-hand, to their autumn consistories and seek their favor. These are organizations operating under special political license from the Roosevelt-Truman administration. Both candidates know this to be the fact but neither of them will have the honor and courage to express the proper resentment and both will treat these invitations as commands. Both nominees are afraid to declare that these bad bunds are outlaws against the American state and its people and to promise the nation and the people deliverance from their ruthless power.

The AF of L Executive Council, or cabinet, recently received with a straight face a report from a special committee revealing the fact that racketeers had managed to obtain charters in a few unimportant locals and had been extorting money from workers and employers. Our press treated this as hot news and played it straight without reference to the sordid record established in the last 15 years proving beyond denial that the AF of L was a licensing authority for criminals of the lowest types.

The Executive Council of the AF of L is a band of political high-binders which in many proven cases has taken aggressive action against rank-and-file workers who were driven to the folly of opposing the rule of gangsters put over them by the authority of the AF of L.

For many years its attorney-general, so to speak, was Joe Padway, a greedy and thoroughly corrupt ambulance chaser from Milwaukee who ran up an enormous practice as defender of such rogues as Browne and Bioff and George Scalise, known to him to be agents of the Capone mob. Padway brazenly showed himself at a convention of the Browne-Bioff underworld chapter of the AF of L in Louisville and sang rapturous praises of these two vermin. He had his price and they paid it, and the AF of L endorsed his conduct.

Browne was a member of the Executive Council or Cabinet, and Dan Tobin of the Teamsters, frankly admitting his own knowledge that Browne was an underworld criminal, explained that he would not think of denouncing him because Protocol in this gang which now commands the nominees, forbade one racketeer to embarass another lest reprisals lead to general embarrassment. If he had called Browne a crook and tried to liberate Browne's subjects from persecution, Browne and other crooks would holler up the fact that Tobin had thrown a whole council of locals of the Teamsters' Union in Cincinnati to permanent receivership under a loathsome old thief named Brocky Farrell with plenipotentiary powers from Tobin, himself.

Farrell's reign lasted 25 years during which his subjects had no voice in the affairs of their unions and fell steadily lower in the scale of wages and living.

Farrell was responsible only to Tobin and he became notorious as the official spendthrift at the drunken galas of the hierarchy, squandering with the lavish hand of a bush-league Paul Hoffman money wrung from the hearts and marrow of degraded Cincinnati truckman and their wives and children.

When, at last, his reign was ended by a court order, that or-

STALIN'S MANTLE

For nearly three decades Joseph Stalin has ruled Russia and served as the high priest of international Communism. In the free world his name has become a synonym for the tyranny and aggression of a Godless state. Now there seems to be indication that he will soon step aside for a younger successor. Some observers believe that Georgi Malenkov will inherit the mantle of Lenin and Stalin when the Communist Party Congress convenes in Moscow on October 5.

If this should prove to be the case there will be no cause for optimism in the western world. Malenkov is a younger edition of Stalin, less brilliant and resourceful perhaps, but no less dedicated to the ideals of the Communist Party. Malenkov has modeled himself after his idol, Stalin, and has evidenced an intense hatred of the West and everything it stands for.

For some time students of Russian affairs have speculated as to what would happen should Stalin die in power. At Lenin's death in 1924 there was a wild scramble for the leadership and after bloody purges and much intrigue Stalin emerged as dictator. By handing the reins over to Malenkov during his lifetime Stalin may think he can avoid chaos in Russia after his death.

At 73 Stalin has outlived most of the revolutionaries who were his associates and comrades of his youth. He has lived to see himself become a myth among his people. Few men in history have had as great an opportunity to accomplish good and few have been responsible for so much evil and bloodshed. Whether he steps aside now or dies in office his career cannot have much longer to run. Unfortunately tyranny can outlive tyrants.

LAWS AND LOBBIES

Over 800 individuals and firms have registered as lobbyists in accordance with terms of the lobbying act. These individuals and firms must list their expenditures and while some of them spend freely others carry on their business of trying to influence legislation on an amazingly small budget.

The lobbyist has always been something of a bogeyman to many people. Lobbying conjures up pictures of lavish expenditures in an attempt to buy favors. There have been occasions when special interest groups used large sums to gain particular ends but for the most part lobbyists represent groups which have a legal right to approach legislators and carry out their business legally.

The grocer, the butcher, the laborer and the manufacturer all have an interest in what laws are passed. Lobbyists make the wishes of those they represent clear to Congressmen. There are good and bad lobbyists. But the lobbying act has made all lobbyists come out in the open and admit their purpose and what they spend to accomplish it.

THE BEST CHECK

In recent years the federal government has taken over many of the functions which were traditionally believed to be the province of the states. Many good Americans view this situation with alarm and there is some evidence that their fears are justified. It is easier for a citizen to keep a check on administration and expenditures which are made within his own state.

But very often the federal government has taken over functions which the states had ignored or performed badly. There, perhaps, is the answer to the problem of how to check growing federal power. If the states were to pay strict attention to the business of meeting their own problems, without looking to the federal government to take over the unpleasant or expensive tasks, there might be no excuse or reason for further federal intervention in state business. States' rights can never be preserved without full realization of states' responsibilities.

Despite our prosperity—despite more people having more of everything these days—America's energies still face challenges. Nearly five million persons are on relief rolls—five million reasons for spreading our gains into more and more homes across the country.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE STANDARD CATALOGUE

It took a long time to convince our military men that while the citizens are willing to pay heavily for the defense of their country, they cannot condone wilful extravagance. The idea of a universal standard catalogue to apply to all services is so logical, so reasonable that it was never understandable why anyone should have opposed it. Yet, for years the military fought it and an attempt to creat such a catalogue by a committee appointed by the Department of Defense was operated at such a snail's pace that many inferred that either those in charge were inefficient or that the project was being sabotaged.

Now Congress has acted. Public Law 436 sets up a standard catalogue, provides a director and deputy director to supervise it, and requires reports every six months. Little is left to chance.

The law requires:

". . . There shall be a single catalogue, which may consist of a number of volumes, sections, or supplements, in which all items of supply shall be included and in which there shall appear information on each item needed for supply operations such as descriptive and performance data, size, weight, cubage, packaging or packing data, a standard quantitative measurement unit, and such other related data as is determined by the director of the agency to be necessary or desirable.

"In supply standardization, it shall be the duty of the agency to achieve the highest practicable degree possible in the standardization of items used throughout the Department of Defense, through the development and use of single specifications, in the elimination of overlapping and duplicating item specifications, and in the reduction of the number of sizes, kinds, or types of generally similar items. The greatest practicable degree of standardization of methods of packing, packaging, and preservation of such items shall be achieved, together with the most efficient use of services and facilities concerned with the inspection, testing and acceptance of such items."

It ought now not to be possible for each Department of Defense to pay a different price for the identical commodity simply by calling it a different name. It ought to be possible to keep crooks, fixers, middlemen out of the supply business. The reputable houses do not want any of the little tricks that have been employed by five percenters or ten percenters or Washington lawyers to get contracts. They are generally not set up for transactions which involve unusual bookkeeping processes. They do not wish to be involved in Congressional investigations which reflect upon their integrity. They have usually favored the Standardized Catalogue. The opposition to the Standardized Catalogue has come from chiselers.

Our government is not very efficient because it has lived long on easy money. Extravagances were not felt by the people, but today when about 40 cents out of every earned dollar goes to taxes, it is a different story. The President, in other days, announced an emergency and the taxpayer agreed to almost anything. Such senators as Robert A. Taft and Harry F. Byrd were smeared and denounced because they demanded cuts in budgets which were puffed up to provide for a possible cut. The full force of government press agents was employed to falsify the record of a senator who went along 90 per cent, because the administration wanted 100 per cent.

The Hoover Commission established beyond question the waste. Congressional committees even found corruption. The Hoover Commission was not concerned with corruption; it sought efficiency; the elimination of duplication; the institution of modern methods of accountancy. It fought waste.

The Standardized Catalogue was proposed by the Hoover Commission. It is a step toward a more efficient handling of the people's money.

Another step needs to be taken. After World War II, billions of dollars of materiel, from Bibles to tanks, were thrown away, some into the sea. It was suggested at the time that it would wreck our economy if such commodities were resold as salvage. The disposal of used and even unused materiel by our military forces at the end of a war is wasteful, extravagant, even profligate. All the data on the subject is not available, but there are plenty of eye-witness and collateral accounts.

A Congressional committee ought to go into this matter now; investigate it thoroughly; set up a program for the disposal of such goods by the Army, Navy, and Air Force, which would protect the money of the American taxpayer.

Saving Lives

It is rarely, of course, that CAA personnel have to operate under gunfire, but they do cope with an amazing variety of emergencies in order to make flying the routinely safe experience it is for the average American. In flight-testing the competency of applicants for airman certificates, CAA safety agents frequently must cut one of an airplane's two engines, to see whether the pilot reacts promptly and correctly. If he does, he gets the CAA certificate which is an assurance of safety to the public. If he doesn't the CAA agent has to move fast to save his neck.

Reports in our files show that in 23 test incidents, quick thinking by CAA safety agents saved almost half a million dollars worth of airplanes and the lives of 60 persons. A typical, terse report is that on case 8-100-0:

"Air transport rating applicant in DC-3. Making low approach with left engine out. Over airport at 900 feet, hood was removed and applicant started turn to left. Suddenly changed mind and rolled aircraft into an R turn. Airplane spun to right. Coordinated efforts of company check pilot and agent stopped spin and recovered. Barograph in airplane showed recovery was 50 feet above level of airport."

A majority of the CAA "saves," however, are achieved by CAA ground personnel, who man the more than 70,000 mile network of Federal Airways. From their post in communications stations, control towers and control centers, they have "talked down" hundreds of lost pilots. Although the highways of the sky are clearly marked by CAA radio beams, every now and then some pilot will become confused.

Then CAA communicators or controllers go to work as they did when a night-flying National Guard pilot contacted our Macon, Ga., radio during a thunderstorm and reported his position unknown. The communicator thought of the searchlight used to advertise a drive-in theatre. He asked the operator to leave the searchlight on. The pilot finally saw the beam, determined his position, and proceeded to a safe landing.

All branches of the military depend heavily on CAA services, particularly on its air navigation and traffic control facilities which for the last four years, have been improved and operated under a "commo system" concept. Thus, the air defense command uses information obtained and correlated by CAA to identify friendly aircraft flying in our coastal and border defense zones, so that it can "scramble" interceptors against unidentified targets appearing on radar or reported by ground observers.

On the civil defense side, CAA has worked closely with state and local officials to plan for the effective use of smaller airplanes. How these can be marshalled in an emergency was demonstrated at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where 309 private air planes hauled 110,000 pounds of simulated supplies into the "stricken" city within two hours after a mock attack. While we all pray that this type of disaster will not occur, it is good to know that airplanes can and do perform such mercy missions when midwestern rivers overflow, or when areas of the northwest are isolated by a blizzard.

The airplane has an important humanitarian role to play in our world relations, too, and CAA is proud to have participated in one of its first such demonstrations. When locusts threatened the food supplies of Iran in 1951, CAA experts assisted the Department of State in rushing two four-engine planes, one loaded with small spray planes, the other with pilots and spray liquid, to the endangered area. They beat off the insect plague, and set a pattern which promises to help wipe out hunger, and thereby remove a major cause of wars.

But while CAA activities overseas tend to be more spectacular—witness the recent episode involving our safety agents who worked with the CAB and the Brazilian government to investigate an accident in the heart of the jungle—the day-to-day activities of CAA people are concerned more with the safety of the 23,000,000 passengers who ride our domestic airlines and of the people who fly our 60,000 civil aircraft.

Any time of day or night you are likely to see a CAA safety agent board an airliner in the United States, and make the same kind of "en route" inspection that is conducted on our carriers abroad.

At the same time, CAA, "range riders of the sky," more prosaically described as airway patrol pilots, may be check-flying the courses of a radio range, or the accuracy of instrument landing radio beam, to make sure that all pilots can follow them with confidence. Three of these range riders gave their lives in 1948, when they crashed into mountains near Ward, Colorado, apparently as a result of extreme turbulence in the area.

But it is because of their work and the work of other CAA employes that United States civil aviation has been able to set world records for safety. You can board an airliner today with less risk than you can drive you car, thanks to the teamwork of government and industry in the field of civil aviation.

Eisenhower's Sincerity Might Offset With Voters His Lack of Political Knowledge

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 27—What has been happening to General Eisenhower since he became a candidate for the presidency is a very interesting story of the inner conflict between a fine character of high principle and the complexities of modern politics.

It presents a paradox which probably has no parallel in political history.

It explains why, on the one hand, the general is disappointing the professional political groups and seemingly making mistakes which mean a loss of votes, and yet, on the other hand, why that very weakness may turn out to be a point of strength with a good many voters.

General Eisenhower resembles the average man more than he does a political leader. He likes to say what he feels and to express it in ordinary words. What comes out in his extemporaneous speeches is what he feels in his heart. He is earnest, sincere, forthright in expressing what he believes are fundamentals. Persons who hear him feel they have listened to a man who is basically honest and, if elected, would do an honest job. He would get all sides of a controversy. He would do what he thought was fair and for the best interests of the country when he made a decision.

Yet, when General Eisenhower says things like that in his speeches, they come out in the form of phrases that in cold print look like platitudes. They are unexciting words. They are words that appear to contain nothing new. But there is something new in them—a profound sincerity which is all too rare among public men not only in this country but throughout the world.

The art of politics has become the art of doubletalk. The revulsion of feeling in America today against the politician as such is intense. A candidate for public office who, through "ghost written" speeches, balances his phrases nicely will fool lots of people. But in many a congressional district it has happened that a candidate who says simple truths often beats out the experienced campaigner.

Here is the type of speech which, in effect, Eisenhower is trying to make, though he hasn't gotten his idea across except to small delegations:

"I am not a politician. I don't want to go into politics. I am now being told to say this or that on public questions. I know that nobody can possibly know in advance of election all the facts and all the points that come up when a big question of policy has to be decided. I don't know the answers now. I doubt if anybody does. But I promise you one thing: In trying to get those answers, I'll do what any honest man would do—get all the facts and then be fair in deciding what to do about them. If I find any crooks in the government service, I won't wast any time firing them, nor will I let the grafters get in.

"I'm just as sore as you are that the government has had its scandals. I don't think they should have waited for committees of Congress to investigate and then clean up the mess. It's the business of the executive branch of our government to see to it that there isn't any mess there for Congress to investigate.

"These scandals touch you and me—they're a matter of common honesty, and no amount of statistics saying that only a small per cent are crooked wipes away the fact that we must not let anybody at all fix taxes or fix government officials and get favors by buying influence or pull with mink coats or any other kind of bribe."

Maybe that kind of speech would make more sense than a lot of high-sounding phrases about "corruption" and "moral turpitude" and other highbrow words. The average voter may see in Eisenhower a simple man like himself—not too skilled in phrase making, but honest-minded and ready to call the shots as he sees them.

Maybe if General Eisenhower said frankly a few things about the issues that are paramount and left the minor ones alone, he would make more progress, particularly if he can find a way to bring his magnetic personality closer to the people. For what counts in Eisenhower is his simplicity and candor. He isn't a slick politician or a slick lawyer or a slick user of words. He's just a good public servant with an excellent mind and executive ability, a high sense of duty, and a conscience which tells him that political expediency is often dishonest and that sincerity is the only thing he can offer in its place.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations have had the effrontery to invite the two candidates for the presidency of this Socialist republic to come, hat-in-hand, to their autumn consistories and seek their favor. These are organizations operating under special political license from the Roosevelt-Truman administration. Both candidates know this to be the fact but neither of them will have the honor and courage to express the proper resentment and both will treat these invitations as commands. Both nominees are afraid to declare that these bad bunds are outlaws against the American state and its people and to promise the nation and the people deliverance from their ruthless power.

The AF of L Executive Council, or cabinet, recently received with a straight face a report from a special committee revealing the fact that racketeers had managed to obtain charters in a few unimportant locals and had been extorting money from workers and employers. Our press treated this as hot news and played it straight without reference to the sordid record established in the last 15 years proving beyond denial that the AF of L was a licensing authority for criminals of the lowest types.

The Executive Council of the AF of L is a band of political high-binders which in many proven cases has taken aggressive action against rank-and-file workers who were driven to the folly of opposing the rule of gangsters put over them by the authority of the AF of L.

For many years its attorney-general, so to speak, was Joe Padway, a greedy and thoroughly corrupt ambulance chaser from Milwaukee who ran up an enormous practice as defender of such rogues as Browne and Bioff and George Scalise, known to him to be agents of the Capone mob. Padway brazenly showed himself at a convention of the Browne-Bioff underworld chapter of the AF of L in Louisville and sang rapturous praises of these two vermin. He had his price and they paid it, and the AF of L endorsed his conduct.

Browne was a member of the Executive Council or Cabinet, and Dan Tobin of the Teamsters, frankly admitting his own knowledge that Browne was an underworld criminal, explained that he would not think of denouncing him because Protocol in this gang which now commands the nominees, forbade one racketeer to embarass another lest reprisals lead to general embarrassment. If he had called Browne a crook and tried to liberate Browne's subjects from persecution, Browne and other crooks would holler up the fact that Tobin had thrown a whole council of locals of the Teamsters' Union in Cincinnati to permanent receivership under a loathsome old thief named Brocky Farrell with plenipotentiary powers from Tobin, himself.

Farrell's reign lasted 25 years during which his subjects had no voice in the affairs of their unions and fell steadily lower in the scale of wages and living.

Farrell was responsible only to Tobin and he became notorious as the official spendthrift at the drunken galas of the hierarchy, squandering with the lavish hand of a bush-league Paul Hoffman money wrung from the hearts and marrow of degraded Cincinnati truckman and their wives and children.

When, at last, his reign was ended by a court order, that or-

Ike Backs Ives, Democrats Have No Candidate

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Backed by a pledge of all-out support from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives readied himself today for a hard-hitting role in a Republican "crusade" for victory Nov. 4.

The Norwich legislator was renominated unanimously yesterday by the 300-member GOP state committee. Eisenhower, the party's presidential nominee, telegraphed Ives from New York city that he was "looking forward to participating with you in the New York state campaign."

Ives' opponent for the senatorial race—the only statewide tussle in New York state this fall—will be picked by the Democratic party at a convention in New York city tomorrow. The strongest contenders are two New York city borough presidents, Robert F. Wagner Jr., of Manhattan and John Cashmore of Brooklyn.

Harriman Won't Run

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—The question of who will get the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator from New York is still wide open today.

A candidate to oppose Sen. Irving M. Ives, renominated by the Republicans yesterday, will be picked at the Democratic State Nominating Convention tomorrow night.

Averell Harriman, still fending off urgings that he run, said last night:

"I am not a candidate, nor would I accept a draft."

Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick said last night the race "is wide open." He mentioned two of New York city's borough presidents—Robert F. Wagner Jr. of Manhattan and John Cashmore of Brooklyn—and Peter J. Crotty of Buffalo, attorney and former city official.

The New York Times said today that Edward J. Flynn, Bronx party leader and Democratic national committeeman, had made a tentative decision to support Cashmore, a personal friend.

Liberals Will Nominate

The Liberal party, whose leaders favor Harriman, also will nominate a Senate candidate tomorrow night.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D.-Liberal) has cabled from France to Democratic and Liberal leaders urging pressure on Harriman to persuade him to run, it was learned yesterday.

Lehman said he believed that if Harriman cannot be drafted, the nomination should go to Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter.

Hattie died on the way to a doctor's office.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP)—Dr. George Berkowitz of Yonkers, N. Y., who was hurt Sunday when his car and another crashed near here, was released late Tuesday from St. Luke's Hospital. As Pegler Sees It der, with sweet consideration for the political might of the boss racketeers of unionism, quietly dissolved the situation without awarding damages to the victims, and Padway, as Tobin's counsel, was included in the order for a fee of $5,000.

For more than 15 years I have been pounding the scoundrels of unionism in both of the great gangs, AF of L and CIO. It is not quite to the point to say, as some do, that If I had not been right I should have been jailed away long ago for abusing virtuous men. It is straight to the point, however, to say that extortion, persecution and degradation of millions of union subjects, many of them unwillling captives, are inherent in the very nature of these evil societies and are brazenly defended as just powers of unions by the very men whom Eisenhower and Stevenson will gladly truckle to.

The "committee" which reported, as though in shocked astonishment, the presence of a few racketeers newly "discovered" in the AF of L included William L. McFetridge, president of the Building Service Employes' Union. This mealy faker succeeded George Scalise when Scalise was deposed by the official diligence of Tom Dewey in his old, conscientious phase.

McFetridge was, until then, a subordinate official in this foul underworld crew. He now enjoys a spurious reputations as a brave man who fought the mob at great risk. The truth is that he kept his mouth shut and took no action to clean the gangsters out. He had a soft job and was content.

Inquiring about old thieves in Chicago recently I remarked to a case-hardened cop who had specialized in union criminality the whereabouts of Umbrella Mike Boyle, long ago denounced by the federal courts as a betrayer of labor and a grafter and all-around crook. His union was the Electrical Brotherhood of the AF of L. Surely, I thought, this incredible rogue must have been eliminated by now.

"Oh, no," the policeman said. "Mike is down in Washington in the grand headquarters."

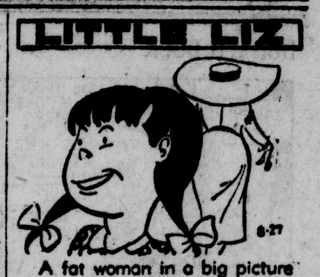

This union, incidentally, has established scholarships in the electricians' trade for deserving young men in the saintly name of William E. Hogan, who was sent to Sing Sing Prison for robbing the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, paroled and promptly reinstated for life in the same fiduciary jobs.

This commentary is a practice swing in preparation for my report to the Vatican for the information of the Pope on the true, foul nature of an American phenomenon as requested by the Holy Father's chief advisor on labor.

Fluoridation

A special committee on chemicals in food of the House of Representatives last month told American cities to be careful before deciding to add fluorides to drinking water as a means of reducing teeth decay.

"A sufficient number of unanswered questions concerning the safety of this program exists as to warrant a conservative attitude," the committee stated.

The committee chided pro-fluoride groups who contend that fluoridation is comparable to chlorination. They added that chlorine is added to destroy harmful bacteria in water, while fluoride is added to cause "a physiological change in the body."

Dr. Barnet Winter, prominent dentist of Beacon, who is leading the fight for caution in the use of fluoridation in this area, stated in The Highland Post July 17, 1952, "I am certain that those who favor the program of fluoridation are sencere in their belief."

"However, I am also certain these same individuals are unaware of the testimony disclosed during the recent Congressional investigation by the Delaney committee on fluoridation."

There is no actual scientific experiment to date which will prove that no harm will come to the older segement of the population, particularly those with kidney diseases, diabetics, tuberculosis and etc.

Certain percenage of children will get mottled enamel.

AMA did not give a complete endorsement of this program, it is with reservations.

American Dental Society has not spent on research of its own into fluoridation.

American Water Works Association reputed to have endorsed this program did not do so.

Testimony by expert witnesses indicated that sodium fluoride definitely has harmful potentials.

Not one individual or group who has so boldly sponsored this plan has dared to accept the responsibility of future effects upon the public. In view of the government's startling facts about the ensuing dangers of fluoridation, perhaps Mayor Newkirk or the water commissioners would like to be the first to shoulder this responsibility to Kingston citizens.

Out of Hospital

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP)—Dr. George Berkowitz of Yonkers, N. Y., who was hurt Sunday when his car and another crashed near here, was released late Tuesday from St. Luke's Hospital. He suffered a brain concussion. His wife was killed. Neither Dr. Berkowitz nor the driver of the other car could explain how the crash happened, police said.

As Pegler Sees It

der, with sweet consideration for the political might of the boss racketeers of unionism, quietly dissolved the situation without awarding damages to the victims, and Padway, as Tobin's counsel, was included in the order for a fee of $5,000.

For more than 15 years I have been pounding the scoundrels of unionism in both of the great gangs, AF of L and CIO. It is not quite to the point to say, as some do, that If I had not been right I should have been jailed away long ago for abusing virtuous men. It is straight to the point, however, to say that extortion, persecution and degradation of millions of union subjects, many of them unwillling captives, are inherent in the very nature of these evil societies and are brazenly defended as just powers of unions by the very men whom Eisenhower and Stevenson will gladly truckle to.

The "committee" which reported, as though in shocked astonishment, the presence of a few racketeers newly "discovered" in the AF of L included William L. McFetridge, president of the Building Service Employes' Union. This mealy faker succeeded George Scalise when Scalise was deposed by the official diligence of Tom Dewey in his old, conscientious phase.

McFetridge was, until then, a subordinate official in this foul underworld crew. He now enjoys a spurious reputations as a brave man who fought the mob at great risk. The truth is that he kept his mouth shut and took no action to clean the gangsters out. He had a soft job and was content.

Inquiring about old thieves in Chicago recently I remarked to a case-hardened cop who had specialized in union criminality the whereabouts of Umbrella Mike Boyle, long ago denounced by the federal courts as a betrayer of labor and a grafter and all-around crook. His union was the Electrical Brotherhood of the AF of L. Surely, I thought, this incredible rogue must have been eliminated by now.

"Oh, no," the policeman said. "Mike is down in Washington in the grand headquarters."

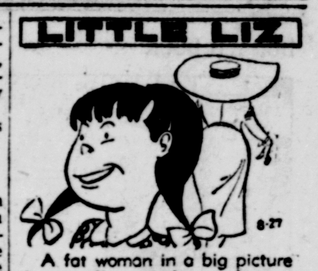

This union, incidentally, has established scholarships in the electricians' trade for deserving young men in the saintly name of William E. Hogan, who was sent to Sing Sing Prison for robbing the Widows' and Orphans' Fund, paroled and promptly reinstated for life in the same fiduciary jobs.

This commentary is a practice swing in preparation for my report to the Vatican for the information of the Pope on the true, foul nature of an American phenomenon as requested by the Holy Father's chief advisor on labor.

Editor, The Freeman:

Fluoridation

A special committee on chemicals in food of the House of Representatives last month told American cities to be careful before deciding to add fluorides to drinking water as a means of reducing teeth decay.

"A sufficient number of unanswered questions concerning the safety of this program exists as to warrant a conservative attitude," the committee stated.

The committee chided pro-fluoride groups who contend that fluoridation is comparable to chlorination. They added that chlorine is added to destroy harmful bacteria in water, while fluoride is added to cause "a physiological change in the body."

Dr. Barnet Winter, prominent dentist of Beacon, who is leading the fight for caution in the use of fluoridation in this area, stated in The Highland Post July 17, 1952, "I am certain that those who favor the program of fluoridation are sencere in their belief."

"However, I am also certain these same individuals are unaware of the testimony disclosed during the recent Congressional investigation by the Delaney committee on fluoridation."

There is no actual scientific experiment to date which will prove that no harm will come to the older segement of the population, particularly those with kidney diseases, diabetics, tuberculosis and etc.

Certain percenage of children will get mottled enamel.

AMA did not give a complete endorsement of this program, it is with reservations.

American Dental Society has not spent on research of its own into fluoridation.

American Water Works Association reputed to have endorsed this program did not do so.

Testimony by expert witnesses indicated that sodium fluoride definitely has harmful potentials.

Not one individual or group who has so boldly sponsored this plan has dared to accept the responsibility of future effects upon the public. In view of the government's startling facts about the ensuing dangers of fluoridation, perhaps Mayor Newkirk or the water commissioners would like to be the first to shoulder this responsibility to Kingston citizens.

Young Man—Oh, it would make one feel so gay and lively.

Sweet Young Thing — Well, Honey, if as you say, a kiss is apt to make one feel so gay and lively, I think if we expect to get home before morning you had better get out at once and kiss the old horse.

There is the old story of the fellow who refused to pass a graveyard at night because he was afraid of ghosts. When told that ghosts never hurt anybody, he replied, "Yes, I know that ghosts can't hurt you, but they will make you hurt yourself."

Every industrious man, in every lawful calling, is a useful man—And one principal reason why men are so often useless is that they neglect their own profession or calling, and divide and shift their attention among a multiplicity of objects and pursuits.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Aug. 26—Frank LaFalce, former coach in the Central School, next year will head the coaching staff, with three assistants, and teach physical education in the Gouverneur Central High School, the largest central school system in this state, with a faculty of 100 teachers. He will receive a salary of $5,500.

The Gouverneur schol board has been angling for LaFalce since last spring, but St. Lawrence University, where he had a successful year, wanted him to remain. His exceptionally fine record in the five years he was connected with the Highland School and his excellent work at St. Lawrence fits him for his new position. Under LaFalce, Highland won 23 games, lost 11 and tied five. Highland had to meet much larger schools, such as Kingston, Arlington, Liberty, etc. A win and a tie with Kingston were to the credit of the local team.

In five seasons of basketball 44 games were won and 26 lost. During this time LaFalce's teams were UCAL champs for two years, and second one year. During the same period the junior varsity won 53 games, lost 17 and were league champs three times. In five years the team won the league baseball championship five times. In four seasons of volleyball 17 games were won and only three lost. Two years his teams were local champs. Mr. and Mrs. LaFalce have purchased a house near Gouverneur and will make their home there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Herbert Campbell and children, Helen, Betty, Tommy and Donald, came from Red Hook Saturday night to the Methodist Church supper and as a farewell call upon the Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Jelsma.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Rhodes were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Addy and children, Richard, William and Mary, Highland Park, N. J.

The meeting of the UD Society will be held Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail.

Fully 100 persons attended the family night supper in the Presbyterian Church Hall Sunday in a farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Jelsma and daughters, Beth Marie and Joyce Francine. The supper was in charge of the Young Women's Club of the church and was served cafeteria style. Many friends and members of the Methodist and Presbyterian Church in Milton also were present. At the close of the supper Matthew P. Busch presented two boxes to Mr. and Mrs. Jelsma as a parting gift from the congregation of Highland and Milton. They contained a silver sugar and creamer and tray. Both recipients expressed their thanks. The Rev. Stanley Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church, paid a tribute to the work of Mr. Jelsma and the friendly relations that existed between the churches. Singing Blest Be the Tie That Binds closed the evening meal.

Mr. and Mrs. Jelsma leave at the end of this week for Penn Yan where he will take over the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church with a membership of some 400.

It is five years since he came here from Mt. Marion which was his first charge. Here he has been a hard conscientious worker and leaves friends both in and outside of the church where he has befriended many in times of stress. Highland, Aug. 26—Frank LaFalce, former coach in the Central School, next year will head the coaching staff, with three assistants, and teach physical education in the Gouverneur Central High School, the largest central school system in this state, with a faculty of 100 teachers. He will receive a salary of $5,500.

The Gouverneur schol board has been angling for LaFalce since last spring, but St. Lawrence University, where he had a successful year, wanted him to remain. His exceptionally fine record in the five years he was connected with the Highland School and his excellent work at St. Lawrence fits him for his new position. Under LaFalce, Highland won 23 games, lost 11 and tied five. Highland had to meet much larger schools, such as Kingston, Arlington, Liberty, etc. A win and a tie with Kingston were to the credit of the local team.

In five seasons of basketball 44 games were won and 26 lost. During this time LaFalce's teams were UCAL champs for two years, and second one year. During the same period the junior varsity won 53 games, lost 17 and were league champs three times. In five years the team won the league baseball championship five times. In four seasons of volleyball 17 games were won and only three lost. Two years his teams were local champs. Call for Action to Make Pressmen Union Change

Cincinnati, Aug. 27 (AP)—A leaflet distributed yesterday at the International Printing Pressmen and Assistant's Union's 35th convention described the union as controlled by "Berryism" and in need of a more democratic organization.

The leaflet referred to the late Maj. George L. Berry, president of the union for 40 years. The leaflet told of alleged scandals that rocked the union after Berry's death. Its distributors were not indentified.

After Berry's death, charges were made that he had been an absolute dictator. Demands were made for an audit of his handling of union funds.

Against Arbitration

Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical Union, told pressmen "the ITU has made better progress in winning wage increases and reducing working hours without arbitration than with it. * * * We don't intend to change that policy."

Pressmen have had an agreement of compulsory arbitration in their contracts with the American Newspaper Publishers Association for more than 50 years.

The pressmen's contract with the ANPA expires this December.

Charles F. McCahill, president of the ANPA, said "without arbitration we have strikes such as put the three Cleveland newspapers out of operation two years ago. With strikes you and we have loss of pay and income."

Nicholas-Louis Robert of France invented the first practical machine which could make paper in long sheets.

Advertising in newspapers increased 5.6 per cent in 1950 over 1949 in 52 large U. S. cities.

Leaving Scout Chapel

Religious services play an important role in the weekly camping periods at the Boy Scout camp at Camp Tri-Mount. Two of the Scouts are shown near the Chapel in the Pines at the camp.

Scout Camp Ends Successful Year

Terming the 1952 season at Boy Scout Camp Tri-Mount "one of the most successful the council has ever conducted," Walter T. Tremper, camp committee chairman, reported today that 177 Scouts and Explorers from 34 troops spent a total of 354 boy-weeks at the camp during its six-week season.

The campers passed 625 requirements toward second class and first class rank advancements, with 27 Scouts completing all requirements needed to advance to their next rank. In addition, 74 merit badges were earned during the season.

Four Explorer Scouts earned the Scout Life Guard Emblem: Fred Carr of Troop 3; Michael Davis, Troop 3; Robert Shellenberger, Troop 8, and Joseph Grosso, Troop 73.

New Swimmers

Boys who came as non-swimmers and learned to swim at least 50 yards correctly after jumping into water over their heads numbered 31.

The camp and all its facilities were inspected during the season by the Council Camp Committee, the Health and Safety Committee, the Greene County Health Department and Region Two office of the Boy Scouts of America. On all inspections, the camp received the highest rating possible, Tremper reported.

Inspections included checks of kitchen facilities, including dishwashing, food preparation and handling, as well as sanitary conditions and general aspects of the camp.

Tremper reported that the camp's food is cooked in a spacious kitchen on two modern gas-fed hotel ranges. The professional chef and staff members are examined medically before hiring. Well-balanced meals follow menus furnished by the national Boy Scout office.

Camp Statistics

Some figures related by Tremper relative to the food consumed at the camp: A total of 2,800 individual servings of cereal; three pints of milk per day per boy, or a total of over 5,000 quarts for the season; one loaf of bread per boy per day; more than $2,000 worth of fresh meat delivered twice each week in refrigerated trucks; four or five pounds of jam for the camp each day.

Drinking water is drawn from a large natural spring, tested each season before camp.

Three doctors were on call during the camp season, and two hospitals were within reach if needed.

Campers are charged $18 per week, which pays for the food and materials used by the Scout, Tremper pointed out. Other expenses are met from the annual finance drive, he said.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Sudden enthusiasm for the railroads today pulled the stock market ahead and enlivened trading.

Favored railroads added betwen 1 and 2 points while the remainder of the list advanced fractionally with few exceptions. At the same time fractional losses dotted major divisions.

Volume picked up a bit when the railroads came to life. The rate still was under a million shares for the entire day however.

In the forefront of the rise were such issues as Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Seaboard Railroad, Southern Railroad, and Southern Pacific.

Chrysler was active and higher, and a few steels perked up in the midst of the recovery movement.

Amerada added as much as 3 points, but quietly, and a few oils were ahead despite lagging tendencies here and there in the division.

Buying was evidently attracted to the railroads by the fact that reports on net operating income for July and the first seven months this year have been on the highly favorable side in most cases.

Say Sewer Probe Shows Disregard For Public Interest

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—City Investigations Commissioner James H. Sheils says his probe of a Queens sewer construction job has shown "unbelieveable carelessness, laxity and disregard of public interest."

He made the statement yesterday after three days of questioning the contractor, Victor Clemente; and seven borough engineers and inspectors.

Queens Borough President James A. Lundy yesterday suspended a sewer inspector and an engineering supervisor. Those suspended, both veteran municipal employes, are Inspector John A. Neary, 47, and Supervisor Gerard J. Brinkman, 47.

The suspensions were pending preparation and trial of charges "for incompetency and for misconduct in prosecution of * * * duties" to check work on a $185,679 segment of the Laurelton sewer network.

Borough Works Commissioner C. Parke Masterson said both men denied doing anything wrong during construction of the sewer, which authorities say is defective.

Lengthy Questioning

Clemente was under lengthy questioning yesterday by Queens District Attorney T. Vincent Quinn.

Clemente said workmen cleaning out Laurelton cesspolls had illegally dumped the contents into the new sewers, causing the odors that led residents to complain.

Quinn reported that Clemente told him he never had given money or a gift to any inspector or public official.

Sheils, calling Clemente's bookkeeping "home-made," said that untangling the system would delay his final report and recommendations. He estimated the report would be ready "much sooner than a month" from now.

The contractor has offered to rebuild, at his own expense, any parts of the sewer found defective.

WALLKILL

$768,000 Bond Issue Voting Is Scheduled

Wallkill, Aug. 27—At the regular August meeting of the Wallkill Central School Board of Education Tuesday night, Sept. 30, was set as the date for a special school election to vote again on whether permanent additional classrooms shall be built in the district. The voters will be asked to authorize a bond issue of $768,000 which would be required to finance the three parts of the proposed building project: $509,500 will be requested to build and equip a 14-room elementary school at the 26-acre Wallkill site. The figure of $112,500 is the estimate given by Harry Halverson, architect, required to remodel and enlarge the locker rroms, to make changes in the shops and cafeteria and to enlarge the gymnasium in the present high school building. The proposition will include the construction of an addition at the Plattekill elementary school to consist of two classrooms, a kindergarten and an all-purpose room. The Plattekill addition is estimated to cost $146,000.

A public discussion meeting on the proposition is set for Tuesday Sept. 23.

The board appointed four teachers to the faculty as follows: Miss Anna Brown of Wallkill to teach kindergarten at Plattekill-Modena, Peter Troy of New York to teach science, Charles Stantial of Maybrook to teach in the sixth grade to replace Gerald Churchill the new postmaster at Walden, and Mrs. Mavis Thomas of New Paltz to teach a kindergarten at Wallkill.

The board received report that the temporary classrooms on the second floor of the Main street annex were about completed and would be ready for occupancy by the time school opens. Two first grade classes are to be housed in these additional rooms.

The installation of a hot water heater at the Modena School was authorized.

Wallkill, Aug. 27—Lennie Portuondo has returned home after a week's visit with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sommerville of Millbrook.

Search Made for Elector

Shreveport, La., Aug. 27 (AP)—A search was made today for a Democratic presidential elector who favors the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. N. B. Carstarphen, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, issued a call for volunteers to fill the post vacated by W. Scott Wilkinson of Shreveport, one of Louisiana's 10 electors. Four of the electors have quit and two others have asked for time to decide whether they wil keep the posts. Carstarphens's appeal came after no logical replacement indicated willingness to succeed Wilkinson. He said the only stipulation is that he must commit himself to cast his ballot in the electoral college for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama.

Justice Is Appointed

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Gov. Dewey today appointed D. Ormonde Ritchie, Suffolk county judge since Dec. 31, 1946, as a state Supreme Court Justice. Ritchie, 49, succeeds Justice Isaac R. Swezey, who died last May 16. Ritchie, of Brightwaters, will serve until Dec. 31 in the 10th Judicial District post.

Rankin Is Loser In Mississippi

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 27 (AP)—Rep. John Rankin, the last of Mississippi's old-school white supremacists and denouncer of Yankees, has lost his seat to his former colleague, Rep. Thomas Abernethy.

Rankin and Abernethy were opponents because the State Legislature combined their districts last April to eliminate a congressional seat lost in the 1950 census.

Rankin conceded defeat early today after unofficial returns from 341 of the district's 358 precincts in yesterday's state Democratic primary showed:

Abernethy 26,903.
Rankin 20,568.

The 70-year-old dean of the Mississippi congressional delegation was seeking his 17th term in the House of Representatives.

Mississippi voters kept the state's bone-dry prohibition law by turning down a county-option liquor proposal.

In other races U. S. Sen. John Stennis won his bid for reelection and U. S. Reps. John Bell Williams, Arthur Winstead and William Colmer, incumbents, rolled over all opposition to win another term in Congress.

Two other congressmen, Reps. Jamie Whitten and Frank Smith were unopposed for renomination on the Democratic ticket, tantamount to election in this predominantly Democratic state.

Call for Action to Make Pressmen Union Change

Cincinnati, Aug. 27 (AP)—A leaflet distributed yesterday at the International Printing Pressmen and Assistant's Union's 35th convention described the union as controlled by "Berryism" and in need of a more democratic organization.

The leaflet referred to the late Maj. George L. Berry, president of the union for 40 years. The leaflet told of alleged scandals that rocked the union after Berry's death. Its distributors were not indentified.

After Berry's death, charges were made that he had been an absolute dictator. Demands were made for an audit of his handling of union funds.

Against Arbitration

Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical Union, told pressmen "the ITU has made better progress in winning wage increases and reducing working hours without arbitration than with it. * * * We don't intend to change that policy."

Pressmen have had an agreement of compulsory arbitration in their contracts with the American Newspaper Publishers Association for more than 50 years.

The pressmen's contract with the ANPA expires this December.

Charles F. McCahill, president of the ANPA, said "without arbitration we have strikes such as put the three Cleveland newspapers out of operation two years ago. With strikes you and we have loss of pay and income."

Nicholas-Louis Robert of France invented the first practical machine which could make paper in long sheets.

Advertising in newspapers increased 5.6 per cent in 1950 over 1949 in 52 large U. S. cities.

Leaving Scout Chapel

Religious services play an important role in the weekly camping periods at the Boy Scout camp at Camp Tri-Mount. Two of the Scouts are shown near the Chapel in the Pines at the camp.

Scout Camp Ends Successful Year

Terming the 1952 season at Boy Scout Camp Tri-Mount "one of the most successful the council has ever conducted," Walter T. Tremper, camp committee chairman, reported today that 177 Scouts and Explorers from 34 troops spent a total of 354 boy-weeks at the camp during its six-week season.

The campers passed 625 requirements toward second class and first class rank advancements, with 27 Scouts completing all requirements needed to advance to their next rank. In addition, 74 merit badges were earned during the season.

Four Explorer Scouts earned the Scout Life Guard Emblem: Fred Carr of Troop 3; Michael Davis, Troop 3; Robert Shellenberger, Troop 8, and Joseph Grosso, Troop 73.

New Swimmers

Boys who came as non-swimmers and learned to swim at least 50 yards correctly after jumping into water over their heads numbered 31.

The camp and all its facilities were inspected during the season by the Council Camp Committee, the Health and Safety Committee, the Greene County Health Department and Region Two office of the Boy Scouts of America. On all inspections, the camp received the highest rating possible, Tremper reported.

Inspections included checks of kitchen facilities, including dishwashing, food preparation and handling, as well as sanitary conditions and general aspects of the camp.

Tremper reported that the camp's food is cooked in a spacious kitchen on two modern gas-fed hotel ranges. The professional chef and staff members are examined medically before hiring. Well-balanced meals follow menus furnished by the national Boy Scout office.

Camp Statistics

Some figures related by Tremper relative to the food consumed at the camp: A total of 2,800 individual servings of cereal; three pints of milk per day per boy, or a total of over 5,000 quarts for the season; one loaf of bread per boy per day; more than $2,000 worth of fresh meat delivered twice each week in refrigerated trucks; four or five pounds of jam for the camp each day.

Drinking water is drawn from a large natural spring, tested each season before camp.

Three doctors were on call during the camp season, and two hospitals were within reach if needed.

Campers are charged $18 per week, which pays for the food and materials used by the Scout, Tremper pointed out. Other expenses are met from the annual finance drive, he said.

Four Men Killed

Rochester, Aug. 27 (AP) — Four men were killed today during an inspection of a sewer which was being constructed in suburban town of Irondequoit. Police said the dead men were Arthur Sink and Bernard Bauman, both town firemen, and Earl Richmond and Carl Van Schick, employes of the town sanitation department. Sink and Bauman were overcome despite their gas masks as they tried to rescue the other two men from the sewer, police reported.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Sudden enthusiasm for the railroads today pulled the stock market ahead and enlivened trading.

Favored railroads added betwen 1 and 2 points while the remainder of the list advanced fractionally with few exceptions. At the same time fractional losses dotted major divisions.

Volume picked up a bit when the railroads came to life. The rate still was under a million shares for the entire day however.

In the forefront of the rise were such issues as Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Seaboard Railroad, Southern Railroad, and Southern Pacific.

Chrysler was active and higher, and a few steels perked up in the midst of the recovery movement.

Amerada added as much as 3 points, but quietly, and a few oils were ahead despite lagging tendencies here and there in the division.

Buying was evidently attracted to the railroads by the fact that reports on net operating income for July and the first seven months this year have been on the highly favorable side in most cases.

Say Sewer Probe Shows Disregard For Public Interest

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—City Investigations Commissioner James H. Sheils says his probe of a Queens sewer construction job has shown "unbelieveable carelessness, laxity and disregard of public interest."

He made the statement yesterday after three days of questioning the contractor, Victor Clemente; and seven borough engineers and inspectors.

Queens Borough President James A. Lundy yesterday suspended a sewer inspector and an engineering supervisor. Those suspended, both veteran municipal employes, are Inspector John A. Neary, 47, and Supervisor Gerard J. Brinkman, 47.

The suspensions were pending preparation and trial of charges "for ineompetency and for misconduct in prosecution of * * * duties" to check work on a $185,-679 segment of the Laurelton sewer network.

Borough Works Commissioner C. Parke Masterson said both men denied doing anything wrong during construction of the sewer, which authorities say is defective.

Lengthy Questioning

Clemente was under lengthy questioning yesterday by Queens District Attorney T. Vincent Quinn.

Clemente said workmen cleaning out Laurelton cesspolls had illegally dumped the contents into the new sewers, causing the odors that led residents to complain.

Quinn reported that Clemente told him he never had given money or a gift to any inspector or public official.

Sheils, calling Clemente's bookkeeping "home-made," said that untangling the system would delay his final report and recommendations. He estimated the report would be ready "much sooner than a month" from now.

The contractor has offered to rebuild, at his own expense, any parts of the sewer found defective.

WALLKILL

$768,000 Bond Issue Voting Is Scheduled

Wallkill, Aug. 27—At the regular August meeting of the Wallkill Central School Board of Education Tuesday night, Sept. 30, was set as the date for a special school election to vote again on whether permanent additional classrooms shall be built in the district. The voters will be asked to authorize a bond issue of $768,-000 which would be required to finance the three parts of the proposed building project: $509,500 will be requested to build and equip a 14-room elementary school at the 26-acre Wallkill site. The figure of $112,500 is the estimate given by Harry Halverson, architect, required to remodel and enlarge the locker rroms, to make changes in the shops and cafeteria and to enlarge the gymnasium in the present high school building. The proposition will include the construction of an addition at the Plattekill elementary school to consist of two classrooms, a kindergarten and an all-purpose room. The Plattekill addition is estimated to cost $146,-000.

A public discussion meeting on the proposition is set for Tuesday Sept. 23.

The board appointed four teachers to the faculty as follows: Miss Anna Brown of Wallkill to teach kindergarten at Plattekill-Modena, Peter Troy of New York to teach science, Charles Stantial of Maybrook to teach in the sixth grade to replace Gerald Churchill the new postmaster at Walden, and Mrs. Mavis Thomas of New Paltz to teach a kindergarten at Wallkill.

The board received report that the temporary classrooms on the second floor of the Main street annex were about completed and would be ready for occupancy by the time school opens. Two first grade classes are to be housed in these additional rooms.

The installation of a hot water heater at the Modena School was authorized.

Wallkill, Aug. 27—Lennie Portuondo has returned home after a week's visit with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sommerville of Millbrook.

10 Witnesses Are Heard in Hudson

Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The grand jury investigating vice and possible political corruption in Columbia county will resume Sept. 2 efforts to trace what the prosecution terms the connection between prostitution and the police department in Hudson.

The extraordinary grand jury questioned 10 witnesses yesterday before adjourning. Four Hudson policemen and two ex-patrolmen appeared during the morning session.

Assistant Prosecutor John Bermingham said one operator of a house of prostitution and three housekeepers in known houses of prostitution were called in the afternoon.

An investigator said last May he felt that the disorderly house operator, identified by Bermingham as Carol Desmond, "had testimony that will implicate various officials and police officers in the city of Hudson."

Aim at Police Ties

Yesterday Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Mason said the jury was trying "to determine the connection between prostitution in the city of Hudson and Hudson Police Department."

Bermingham added that "the present phase of the investigation will be continued" when the jury meets again Sept. 2.

Policemen who appeared were Sgt. Frederick Finck, Sgt. Thadeus W. Raynor and Patrolmen William Spanburgh and William Fitzgerald. Former Patrolmen Arthur Finch and Jesse W. Haight also testified.

Bermingham identified the Negro housekeepers as Florence Ferris, Connie Van Ness and Inez Van Ness.

Most of Country Gets Fair Weather Skies

(By The Associated Press)

There were a few wet spots but generally fair skies prevailed over most of the country today.

Light showers and thunderstorms were reported in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. Thundershowers also hit the Rocky Mountains and northern plains states, and near the Gulf of Mexico.

Warmer air moved northward across the plains states, with temperatures near 90 and above in prospect for midwest areas. It continued hot in Texas and the southwest, with readings above 100 in Texas yesterday for the 25th consecutive day. A little cooler weather was forecast for the eastern states.

Flying To Paris

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Bernar MacFadden, publisher and physical culturist, is flying to Paris to make a parachute jump into the Seine river to celebrate his 84th birthday. MacFadden, who was 84 Aug. 16, left here by plane yesterday. For the jump he took along red underwear, a life preserver and shoes with two-inch soles. He told newsmen at Idlewild Airport that he would make the jump—his third in three years—to prove that "getting old is a bad habit."

Bomber in Flames

An Air Force B-29 bomber burns furiously after it crashed at Parksdale Field, near Shreveport, La., killing seven of its eight-man crew. Heavily loaded with gas, the plane developed engine trouble and fell a mile short of runway attemping to make an emergency landing. (U. S. Air Forse Photo via AP Wirephoto).

Investor Forum

by Harry C. France

Her problem is a common one: her capital does not produce enough income. Economic necessity compels her to make some changes. And she is conditioned for these changes by what she reads in the newspapers and hears over the radio.

Philip Murray's steel workers have won a wage hike. John L. Lewis's coal miners are to get one. Strikes for higher wages are impending in a number of big industries. So, why shouldn't she get higher wages on her money?

The story of her investment experience runs like this: five years ago she bought (on the best-intentioned advice) $50,000 worth of 2½ per cent bonds. She collected the $1,250 yearly interest. It wasn't enough but no thought of change came to her until America's marvelous system of communication (radio and press) made her conscious of the inadequacy of her own investment program.

She insists on maintaining her own home. Moving in with her children or favorite relatives doesn't appeal to her at all. Her own home is her castle; she wants no subsidies and no tender care from those who eye her estate. Business is business and cheap money is cheap money.

Her late husband's business partner tells her that money rates are going a little higher. That is why her bonds—that cost her 100—are selling for around 98. Two and a half per cent interest is bad enough, but to see the bonds go below face value arouses her spirit and her spunk.

She has just sold the bonds (they cost $50,000) for $49,135. They brought 98.27 and the gentleman mentioned in the previous paragraph thinks they will go lower with the strengthening of basic interest rates.

Thus, her experience is a sad one. She bought them for income. It wasn't enough. She purchased them for safety and she lost $865. Nobody told her when she bought the bonds that there was any risk involved. Now she knows there was.

So, she has $49,135 to re-invest. Her mind has been conditioned to risk. But there will be no blind buying of anything. She draws up a list of 25 seasoned securities whose dividend records pass muster. And she takes an entire week eliminating 20 of these securities. In the last analysis, she buys no bonds at all. Spreading her capital, she buys two $7 preferred stocks; one $8 preferred; one common stock that has paid $9 a share for 30 years and one common that has paid from $12 to $16 for 25 years.

These five stocks cost $48,500 and will pay her at least $2,680 a year. Is there risk in the list? Sure. Is there potential appreciation there? Of course.

And now, instead of getting $104.33 a month on $50,000 of 2½% bonds, she will get $223.33 on a good grade of stocks that must earn money if Uncle Sam is to collect the taxes necessary to pay interest on his debt. It is as simple as that.

Everywhere in America there are trustees and directors, investment managers and institutional officers who are not facing up to the critical economic problems engendered by cheap money.

Cheap money may have run its course. Certain it is that if, with a change in fiscal direction in Washington in 1953, deficit financing is over, then the flood of money that red figures produce will abate and interest rates will go higher and high grade bond prices will decline.

Every trustee and funds director in charge of investment, who believes that a balanced budget in Washington (barring another war) is in the offing, should review the bond portfolio he watches over carefully in the months ahead.

If any of the economic problems that beset the widow about whom I have written are of concern to the society, association or philanthropy whose affairs he directs, some action should be taken soon.

As I have said, perhaps the days of artificially cheap money are ending.

May See Caller

London, Aug. 27 (AP) — The "sorry, dear, but I'm working late at the office" dodge may be on the way out—TV-telephone has arrived. The "I can see you" phone—latest invention of British radio engineers—is a surprise exhibit at London's annual radio show, which opened today. The caller's image is shown on a television screen at the other end of the circuit, and the caller similarly can see the party on the other end on a telvision screen in front of him. But the TV-phone won't be invading the privacy of the home for a while yet—the present model stands as high as a kitchen cabinet and costs around $2,800.

Weight Lifter

Bloomington, Ind. (AP) — The American Olympic team might have fared even better in the weight lifting classes last summer if Bloomington police had caught a certain thief. Authorities are still seeking the man who took a 1,000-pound length of pipe and a 300-pound manhole casting from city property.

MT. TREMPER

Mount Tremper, Aug. 26—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Borman and daughter, Joan, have returned to New York after a week's vacation here. Borman is a well-known pianist and a long-time summer vacationer in Mount Tremper.

Miss Ann Head spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Head.

Mrs. Constance Albano and children, Michele and Salvatore, of Brooklyn are spending a vacation at the home of Mrs. Jennie Fazio, Mrs. Albano's mother.

The annual reunion of the Callaghan-Lyon families was held at Longview Farm, Cairo, Sunday, Aug. 24. Guest of honor was Sister Mary Kathleen (the former Mary Lyon) of the Missionary Sisters of the Most Sacred Heart. Sister Kathleen is only permitted to visit her family once every five years. She is a teacher at St. Ann's High School, Philadelphia, Pa. Those attending the reunion included Mr. and Mrs. John Callaghan, Miss Elizabeth Callaghan, Miss Rosalia Callaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lyon, the Misses Helen and Veronica Lyon, Charles and John Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Savarese and sons, James, Francis and George, Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Suydow and children, Catherine, Robert, Timothy, Deborah and Stephen, Mrs. George Holtz and daughters, Judith and Susan, Mrs. Howard Umhey and daughters, Patricia and Sheila, Mr. and Mrs. James Paxton and Miss Mary Nash. Longview Farm is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lyon, parents of Sister Mary Kathleen.

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin A. McEnery of Brooklyn are spending a three-weeks vacation at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byron.

Sentenced to Jail

Chicago, Aug. 27 (AP)—A $42-a-week messenger who played Santa Claus with $30,000 of his boss's money was sentenced to six months in jail yesterday. Anthony Adams, 44-year-old bachelor, said he forged company vouchers to get the money to give to needy friends and relatives.

10 Witnesses Are Heard in Hudson

Hudson, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The grand jury investigating vice and possible political corruption in Columbia county will resume Sept. 2 efforts to trace what the prosecution terms the connection between prostitution and the police department in Hudson.

The extraordinary grand jury questioned 10 witnesses yesterday before adjourning. Four Hudson policemen and two ex-patrolmen appeared during the morning session.

Assistant Prosecutor John Bermingham said one operator of a house of prostitution and three housekeepers in known houses of prostitution were called in the afternoon.

An investigator said last May he felt that the disorderly house operator, identified by Bermingham as Carol Desmond, "had testimony that will implicate various officials and police officers in the city of Hudson."

Aim at Police Ties

Yesterday Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Mason said the jury was trying "to determine the connection between prostitution in the city of Hudson and Hudson Police Department."

Bermingham added that "the present phase of the investigation will be continued" when the jury meets again Sept. 2.

Policemen who appeared were Sgt. Frederick Finck, Sgt. Thaddeus W. Raynor and Patrolmen William Spanburgh and William Fitzgerald. Former Patrolmen Arthur Finch and Jesse W. Haight also testified.

Bermingham identified the Negro housekeepers as Florence Ferris, Connie Van Ness and Inez Van Ness.

Most of Country Gets Fair Weather Skies

(By The Associated Press)

There were a few wet spots but generally fair skies prevailed over most of the country today.

Light showers and thunderstorms were reported in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. Thundershowers also hit the Rocky Mountains and northern plains states, and near the Gulf of Mexico.

Warmer air moved northward across the plains states, with temperatures near 90 and above in prospect for midwest areas. It continued hot in Texas and the southwest, with readings above 100 in Texas yesterday for the 25th consecutive day. A little cooler weather was forecast for the eastern states.

Flying To Paris

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Bernar MacFadden, publisher and physical culturist, is flying to Paris to make a parachute jump into the Seine river to celebrate his 84th birthday. MacFadden, who was 84 Aug. 16, left here by plane yesterday. For the jump he took along red underwear, a life preserver and shoes with two-inch soles. He told newsmen at Idlewild Airport that he would make the jump—his third in three years—to prove that "getting old is a bad habit."

Bomber in Flames

An Air Force B-29 bomber burns furiously after it crashed at Parksdale Field, near Shreveport, La., killing seven of its eight-man crew. Heavily loaded with gas, the plane developed engine trouble and fell a mile short of runway attemping to make an emergency landing. (U. S. Air Forse Photo via AP Wirephoto).

Investor Forum

by Harry C. France

Her problem is a common one: her capital does not produce enough income. Economic necessity compels her to make some changes. And she is conditioned for these changes by what she reads in the newspapers and hears over the radio.

Philip Murray's steel workers have won a wage hike. John L. Lewis's coal miners are to get one. Strikes for higher wages are impending in a number of big industries. So, why shouldn't she get higher wages on her money?

The story of her investment experience runs like this: five years ago she bought (on the best-intentioned advice) $50,000 worth of 2½ per cent bonds. She collected the $1,250 yearly interest. It wasn't enough but no thought of change came to her until America's marvelous system of communication (radio and press) made her conscious of the inadequacy of her own investment program.

She insists on maintaining her own home. Moving in with her children or favorite relatives doesn't appeal to her at all. Her own home is her castle; she wants no subsidies and no tender care from those who eye her estate. Business is business and cheap money is cheap money.

When East doubled four spades he looked far too pleased with himself for his own good. South looked at him anxiously thinking: "He certainly sounds like a man with a lot of trumps."

West opened the king of hearts, and East signalled encouragement with the ten. West recognized the signal for what it was, and continued with a second heart, forcing dummy to ruff. East thereupon looked very pleasant, and South once more got the strong impression that East held at least four trumps.

Declarer hopefully led a trump from dummy and won with the king in his own hand. He was greatly relieved to find that West could follow suit. Except for the warning signals, South would have made the fatal mistake of leading a second trump. Having been warned, however, South switched to diamonds. East took his ace on the second round of that suit, and led a third heart, forcing dummy to ruff with the nine.

Declarer now cashed the ace and king of clubs and led a high diamond from dummy. If East discarded, South would be happy to discard likewise. When East, as it happened, ruffed, South overruffed and returned to dummy by ruffing a club. This put him in position to continue the diamonds, and East was helpless to defeat the contract.

If East hadn't looked quite so smug, South would have played the hand normally and would have gone down to defeat. After ruffing the second round of hearts in dummy, South would have led trumps twice.

East would refuse both trump tricks. He would get in with the ace of diamonds in time to lead a third round of trumps with his ace of trumps. This would remove the last trump from dummy, and now East could establish a trump trick for himself by leading another heart.

When East doubled four spades he looked far too pleased with himself for his own good. South looked at him anxiously thinking: "He certainly sounds like a man with a lot of trumps."

West opened the king of hearts, and East signalled encouragement with the ten. West recognized the signal for what it was, and continued with a second heart, forcing dummy to ruff. East thereupon looked very pleasant, and South once more got the strong impression that East held at least four trumps.

Declarer hopefully led a trump from dummy and won with the king in his own hand. He was greatly relieved to find that West could follow suit. Except for the warning signals, South would have made the fatal mistake of leading a second trump. Having been warned, however, South switched to diamonds. East took his ace on the second round of that suit, and led a third heart, forcing dummy to ruff with the nine.

Declarer now cashed the ace and king of clubs and led a high diamond from dummy. If East discarded, South would be happy to discard likewise. When East, as it happened, ruffed, South overruffed and returned to dummy by ruffing a club. This put him in position to continue the diamonds, and East was helpless to defeat the contract.

If East hadn't looked quite so smug, South would have played the hand normally and would have gone down to defeat. After ruffing the second round of hearts in dummy, South would have led trumps twice.

East would refuse both trump tricks. He would get in with the ace of diamonds in time to lead a third round of trumps with his ace of trumps. This would remove the last trump from dummy, and now East could establish a trump trick for himself by leading another heart.

September Trial Term Will Start Tuesday Afternoon

The September trial term of County Court will be convened on Tuesday at 2 p. m. with a trial jury reporting at that time.

There are 102 civil cases on the calendar and County Judge John M. Cashin will also dispose of criminal cases. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn will present a considerable number of criminal cases, including the first degree murder indictment which charges Samuel Schifano, 60, Highland, with the alleged killing of Mrs. Emella Nusca, 52, at her apartment near Highland on June 20. Both were found in the apartment suffering from cuts and slashes. Nearby was a hatchet and knife. Mrs. Nusca died at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, on June 21 and Schifano remained at the hospital until June 28 when he was brought to jail. Schifano at first gave a New York city address but on being admitted to jail said Highland was his home. Harry Gittleson of New York city represents Schifano.

School 8 Auction

school purposes a year ago on completion of the Washington School, it has been unused. A resolution was offered at the July meeting by Trustee Chester A. Baltz, and seconded by Trustee Robert O'Reilly, authorizing the sale of the premises which the resolution stated was costing the board considerable money to maintain.

Full Block Included

The premises include the entire block bounded by Franklin, Liberty, Furnance and Prospect streets, and is the property which was transferred by John and Laura A. P. Van Buren to Oliver Halsey, William B. Davis and David A. Disbrow, trustees of School District No. 8, Town of Kingston, on July 25, 1850, and has since been used for school purposes.

Under the terms of the sale 10 per cent of the purchase price must be deposited at the time of the sale and within five days the balance of the bid must be secured by cash or securities deposited for the faithful performance of the sale. The purchase price must be paid and a quit claim deed will be given by the board within 30 days after approval of the sale by the board of education.

Sale of the premises is subject to any and all restrictions as to use under the zoning law.

Prior to the decision to offer the property at auction, the board had several inquiries from firms seeking to purchase the premises for business purposes. In view of that fact it is expected bidding will be brisk at the sale tomorrow morning.

Eligible for Jobs

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Civil Service Commission said today that these persons have been certified as eligible for appointment as postmaster as a result of competitive examinations: Middletown, N. Y.—James C. Garland and Charles W. Sweeney. Campbell Hall, N. Y.—Mrs. Theophelia E. Williams and Lewis W. Steenrod. Goshen, N. Y.—Joseph C. Donovan (only one named as eligible).

Licenses Refused

Bentonville, Ark. (AP) — Ruth Wharton, Benton county clerk, says 16 couples were refused marriage licenses in one day recently. The reason—14 couples were minors without consent of their parents and two were drunk.

Defiant Reds

apparently for power within the stockades.

Two prisoners were killed in escape attempts from mainland stockades. A third prisoner was killed when he stoned a guard at Hospital Camp Number Two at Pusan.

The fourth POW met death Aug. 23 when an allied infantry company barged into Koje's Compound Number 10 and forcibly halted a mass singing demonstration. Twelve other prisoners were hurt in the fight.

Of the 64 prisoners injured, 42 of them suffered gunshot wounds. The biggest single injury toll of the month occurred Aug. 11 when guards halted rioting, rock-throwing Reds on Koje with 80 tear gas grenades and 12 rounds of birdshot from riot guns. Thirty-eight Reds were peppered by the shot.

Two Koje Riots

Most significant of the army's reports today was that two riots occurred on Koje Aug. 19. About 200 prisoners began brawling among themselves. Troops, using tear gas grenades, entered the compound and restored order. Ten prisoners were hurt in the prisoner fight and one POW was shot and wounded in the thigh when he attempted to hit a UN officer with a club.

On the same day two prisoners were shot and wounded when they picked up and hurled at guards two of 25 gas grenades which the guards had thrown to quell rioting.

Report Says

United Nations radio section," and that the guild "is controlled by the pro-Communist faction."

In New York, the Radio Writers Guild, part of the Authors League of America, issued a statement saying it "has never aligned itself with or supported any Communist or pro-Communist organization." The Guild added that its officers, in compliance with the Taft-Hartley Act, signed non-Communist affidavits.

At the same time, Kelley released through the Guild a copy of a letter he sent Sen. McCarran (D.-Nev.), the subcommittee chairman. Kelley said not all his statements before the group were published today, including "the premise on which my testimony was given."

Kelley said he used the term "pro-Communist" only at the request of the subcommittee's counsel, "who indicated that all of my testimony would remain in confidence."

The report said that "in 1943, pursuant to orders from Alexander Trachtenberg, a Communist leader, there began a systematic infiltration of the field of radio."

This, it said, was done by getting Red sympathizers into the Radio Writers Guild, whose 1,500 members, the report said, write "an estimated 90 per cent of the words heard over the national radio networks" and a big percentage of television entertainment scripts.

"Although a large majority of the membership of the Radio Writers Guild is anti-Communist," the report said, "the council of the Guild, which is the governing body, is controlled by the pro-Communist faction which has aligned the Guild in support of Communist organizations and causes."

The subcommittee named script writers Robert C. Lyon, Jr., better known as Peter Lyon, and Millard Lampell, both prominent in the radio world, as "hard-core Communists" and leaders of the Guild.

There is sometimes a difference of about 40 feet between high and low tides at Windsor, Nova Scotia.

Kerhonkson Opens Public Schools On September 3

Kerhonkson public schools will reopen for the school year 1952-53 at 8:55 a. m. Wednesday, Sept. 3, it was announced today by Supervising Principal Roland A. Riegel.

Registration of students reentering the Kerhonkson public schools will take place at this time and school will be in session the entire day. Students in attendance in grades four through 12 will report to the main high school building. Those students attending kindergarten through the third grade will report to the elementary school which is situated at the Kerhonkson Federated Church.

Children entering school for the first time (kindergarten and first grade) should report to the proper teacher at the elementary school on September 3. It will be necessary for students not previously registered to bring with them their birth certificate or baptismal certificate as it will not be possible to register a child without such a certificate.

For the information of parents who have children attending the elementary school, the cafeteria will not be open until Monday, Sept. 8. Therefore, it will be necessary for each student to bring his own lunch the first three days of school.

An organizational faculty meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 2, at the high school at which time material necessary for the opening of school will be presented and plans for the school year 1952-53 will be outlined.

Those children in the the first grade the past school year, who were taught by Miss Abigail Stokes, will report to Mrs. Anna Emmerling and those taught by Mrs. Audrey Schreiber will report to Mrs. Mildred Miller.

There will be two sections of the fifth grade. Mrs. Markle's last year's fourth grade will report to John Finch and Mrs. Eck's last year's fourth grade will report to Miss Rita Cushner.

Parents of children from the outlying districts are requested to check with their trustees concerning transportation pick-up schedules so that their youngsters will be ready when the school buses arrive. Parents of kindergarten children should check carefully to see if their district provides transportation for such children.

Napoleon III Letter

Bologna, Italy (AP)—The document for which France has been looking for the past 80 years has been discovered in the archives of a count here. The document is the signed letter with which Napoleon III, last emperor of France, surrendered at Sedan to Wilhelm I of Germany. The document disappeared from the German court between 1872 and 1875. The letter says: "Mister my brother, as I was unable to die in the midst of my troops, I have only to hand my sword in the hands of Your Majesty. I am, of Your Majesty, the good brother—Napoleon." The document belongs to the two sons of the late attorney Francesco Galli, Gallo Quinto and Gallo Quarto.

SONS FOLLOW FATHERS—Stillwell and Boatner are famous Army names borne into battle by these two American Army officers, each representing a second generation in uniform. Col. Joseph W. Stillwell, Jr., left, son of General "Vinegar Joe," talks over Korean battle tactics with Maj. Mark Boatner, at right, son of Maj.-Gen. Haydon Boatner, former Koje commandant.

Anniversary Concert

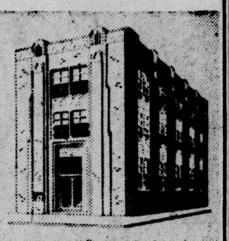

New York (AP) — A recent noonday concert in Manhattan's Bryant Park of oldtime Edison cylinders celebrated the 75th anniversary of the day when Edison got the ideas that led to the phonograph. The cylinders were played on a machine valued at $30 about 40 years ago. The horn, concealed in a cabinet, gave out music that was picked up by a microphone and transmitted to 200 listeners in the park. The program was sponsored by the New York Public Library and a savings bank.

The average American drinks about a half gallon of water each day.

Meet RAY GARVIK, veteran deep-sea diver for Spearin, Preston & Burrows, Inc., New York City.

WE ASKED A DEEP-SEA DIVER

"Guess how much the price of lead is up?"

A deep-sea diver should know the answer. He's loaded down with 35 pounds of lead in his shoes, 83 pounds of lead slugs around his waist.

Diver Ray Garvik guessed that the price of lead is up 100%. Sorry, wrong answer. Lead prices have gone up 250% since 1939.

What's up for your TELEPHONE COMPANY since 1939

Lead up	250%	Cable up	113%
Poles up	128%	Raw cotton up	334%
Taxes up	165%	Buildings up	106%
Copper up	122%	Steel up	73%

but phone service is up an average of only 15%

We know. To give you the kind of telephone service you need and deserve, we have to get all kinds of expensive raw materials, and we buy lead by the ton.

The price of copper, for example, and telephone poles, too, has more than doubled. Even the pliers our linemen use cost about a third again as much.

We're not complaining. But we did want you to know that we're not vaccinated against inflation any more than you are.

Your cost of living is up 92% since 1939. Our costs of materials, wages and taxes are up as much or more. Yet the average price of telephone service has risen only 15%. We think these facts speak for themselves—especially since telephone service today is better than ever before.

OBLIGATION TO PROFESSION

This reader says: "I am a professional musician. Last week my family and I were invited to the wedding of a relative. While at the reception I was asked by the father of the bride if I would accompany a professional singer who had been asked to come in to sing some of the bride's favorite songs as a surprise to her. I had never seen either the singer or the songs before, knew nothing of his style of singing and the piano was in such a position that I was unable to watch him as he sang. This placed me in a very awkward position, but not wanting to refuse what seemed a "simple" request, I played. Don't you think this was an imposition on the part of the bride's father to ask me to play under these circumstances? If I am ever again placed in a similar position, how can I tactfully refuse to accompany without offending my host and belittling my own professional ability."

I agree with you that the bride's father should have forwarned you. But faced with the problem, you have to announce the fact that you do not feel that you can accompany a professional singer you have never played for.

Autograph Party

Dear Mrs. Post: A very dear friend of mine, has just recently had his first novel published, and I would like to give an autograph party at a local club in his honor. Will you please tell me if such a party is out of order?

Answer: If you mean to give a party for him and supply the books for your guests, it would be very pleasing; but if you expect your guests to buy his book and bring it with them, this would be unthinkable.

To Check Obligation

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it incorrect to have some stipulation about not sending gifts printed on our wedding anniversary invitations.

Answer: It is not unusual to include the line, "It is requested no presents be sent."

Is your question regarding a double wedding ceremony? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-2, "Formal Wedding Procedure," includes details for double weddings. OBLIGATION TO PROFESSION

This reader says: "I am a professional musician. Last week my family and I were invited to the wedding of a relative. While at the reception I was asked by the father of the bride if I would accompany a professional singer who had been asked to come in to sing some of the bride's favorite songs as a surprise to her. I had never seen either the singer or the songs before, knew nothing of his style of singing and the piano was in such a position that I was unable to watch him as he sang. This placed me in a very awkward position, but not wanting to refuse what seemed a "simple" request, I played. Don't you think this was an imposition on the part of the bride's father to ask me to play under these circumstances? If I am ever again placed in a similar position, how can I tactfully refuse to accompany without offending my host and belittling my own professional ability."

I agree with you that the bride's father should have forwarned you. But faced with the problem, you have to announce the fact that you do not feel that you can accompany a professional singer you have never played for.

Autograph Party

Dear Mrs. Post: A very dear friend of mine, has just recently had his first novel published, and I would like to give an autograph party at a local club in his honor. Will you please tell me if such a party is out of order?

Answer: If you mean to give a party for him and supply the books for your guests, it would be very pleasing; but if you expect your guests to buy his book and bring it with them, this would be unthinkable.

To Check Obligation

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it incorrect to have some stipulation about not sending gifts printed on our wedding anniversary invitations.

Answer: It is not unusual to include the line, "It is requested no presents be sent."

Is your question regarding a double wedding ceremony? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-2, "Formal Wedding Procedure," includes details for double weddings. Community Concerts Names Third Artist For Winter Series

Carroll Glenn, internationally famous young American violinist, will be the artist to complete the roster of three concerts for Kingston Community Concerts Association. Announcement of the third artist was made today by the local artists committee as plans were being made for the approaching season. Miss Glenn has been described as "a brilliantly endowed violinist whose warm and generous personality has made her a platform favorite."

First Sell-Out in 25 Years

With the choice of Miss Glenn added to the previouly announced concerts starring Eleanor Steber, distinguished Metropolitan soprano, and the dePaur Infantry Chorus, the Kingston association will apparently have one of its most successful seasons. Not only are the artists proving to be popular but also the spring membership campaign completely sold-out the 1100 seating capacity of the Kingston High School auditorium. Only once before in the quarter of a century of community concerts in Kingston has the auditorium been sold-out.

Membership cards which are the admissions to the concerts will be mailed this weekend. The first concert will be Wednseday evening, Oct. 1, when Miss Steber will be presented. Miss Glenn's concert will be Monday evening, Dec. 1; and the dePaur group, Saturday, Mar. 28. 1953.

Any omissions or corrections in memberships should be reported next week to Mrs. Louis Kegler, secretary of the association, 50 Linderman avenue, telephone 1590-R.

Student Lives in Cemetery

New York (AP)—A Long Island student will live in a national cemetery for the next two years because he submitted the high bid for rent on a house to the U. S. Army engineers. The one-family frame house and two sheds is located on farmland purchased by the Army as an addition to the Long Island National Cemetery. It is estimated the graves will not reach Vincent J. Griesel's front yard until his two years are up. He is a student at the Long Island Agricultural Technological Institute.

Color Postcards Are Available at Church

Color postcards of the grounds of the Old Dutch Church at tulip time are now available at the church, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, said today.

The Rev. Mr. Oudemool said that he had received so many requests for pictures of the tulips, 12,000 of which waved in handsome rows during late June and July, that he had decided to have the cards made. The cards, ektachromes by Lane Photos, Kingston, effectively reproduce the bright colors. Three different views of the church grounds and one of the interior of the church are available.

One of the views shows the monument marking the resting place of George Clinton, first governor of New York and surrounding grounds, and another the section in which stands the monument to the 120th Infantry, New York Volunteers. A third view takes in the corner at Main and Wall streets.

Minimum Wage Raised

Manila, (AP)—Minimum wages in the Philippines have been raised by a new law. Workers in non-agricultural enterprises have a new minimum of $2 a day, compared with the old figure of $1.50. Agriculture workers had their minimum raised from 88 cents to $1.

Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin, Jr., 50 Fox Terrace Poughkeepsie, at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, Aug. 17, in St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 150 guests was held at Rose Marie Cabins.

Miss Maureen Donnelly, 167 Pine street, was the maid of honor. Attired in a gown of shrimp net nylon tulle styled over matching taffeta, she wore a fited jacket with a Peter Pan collar, and a matching headband outlined with flowers and a tiny rose veil, and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and blue delphinium.

Mrs. Joseph Molloy of Hyde Park and Miss Ann Sinagra, 342 Broadway were bridesmaids. Their gowns were net tulle over taffeta, in colors blue and orchid respectively, and were fashioned with lace bodices, bouffant skirts, and matching lace jackets having Peter Pan collars. Matching lace picture hats and bouquets of Colonial pink, and yellow roses completed the ensembles.

Miss Beverly Lynn, 123 Market street, Poughkeepsie, a cousin to the bride, was the flower girl. With her pink gown of tulle and nylon lace over taffeta, she wore a matching crown type headpiece and carried a Colonial bouquet of assorted flowers tied with light green ribbon.

Announcement of the third artist was made today by the local artists committee as plans were being made for the approaching season. Only once before in the quarter of a century of community concerts in Kingston has the auditorium been sold-out.

Membership cards which are the admissions to the concerts will be mailed this weekend. The first concert will be Wednseday evening, Oct. 1, when Miss Steber will be presented. Miss Glenn's concert will be Monday evening, Dec. 1; and the dePaur group, Saturday, Mar. 28. 1953.

Any omissions or corrections in memberships should be reported next week to Mrs. Louis Kegler, secretary of the association, 50 Linderman avenue, telephone 1590-R.

Student Lives in Cemetery

New York (AP)—A Long Island student will live in a national cemetery for the next two years because he submitted the high bid for rent on a house to the U. S. Army engineers. The one-family frame house and two sheds is located on farmland purchased by the Army as an addition to the Long Island National Cemetery. It is estimated the graves will not reach Vincent J. Griesel's front yard until his two years are up. He is a student at the Long Island Agricultural Technological Institute.

Minimum Wage Raised

Manila, (AP)—Minimum wages in the Philippines have been raised by a new law. Workers in non-agricultural enterprises have a new minimum of $2 a day, compared with the old figure of $1.50. Agriculture workers had their minimum raised from 88 cents to $1.

Color Postcards Are Available at Church

Color postcards of the grounds of the Old Dutch Church at tulip time are now available at the church, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor, said today.

The Rev. Mr. Oudemool said that he had received so many requests for pictures of the tulips, 12,000 of which waved in handsome rows during late June and July, that he had decided to have the cards made. The cards, ektachromes by Lane Photos, Kingston, effectively reproduce the bright colors. Three different views of the church grounds and one of the interior of the church are available.

One of the views shows the monument marking the resting place of George Clinton, first governor of New York and surrounding grounds, and another the section in which stands the monument to the 120th Infantry, New York Volunteers. A third view takes in the corner at Main and Wall streets.

Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin, Jr., 50 Fox Terrace Poughkeepsie, at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, Aug. 17, in St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. John D. Red Sox Tossers Capture Second Half Pennant in KAA Little League

Dodgers Eliminate Yankee Hopes, 7-5; Championship Series Starts Labor Day

Thanks to a friendly lift from the Dodgers, the KAA Little League Red Sox backed into the second round pennant yesterday and qualified for the championship series against their benefactors on Labor Day morning.

Without lifting a finger, the Sox nailed down the bunting with a record of 7 wins and 1 defeat, when the Dodgers obligingly eliminated the Yankees, 7 to 5 at the 156th FA diamond.

The Red Sox and Dodgers launch the championship series, best of three, at 10 a. m. on Labor Day.

Just for the Record Says Pucker Davis

The Colonial Merchants of the City Baseball League trounced the Lanesville A.C., 15 to 5, Sunday on the Lanesville diamond, Manager Bill "Pucker" Davis of the locals reported today, "just in case they forgot to do so." Mike Palumbo pitched for the Merchants. Angie Fondino and George Telepas were the batting stars, the former cracking a pair of doubles with the bases loaded and Telepas banging four singles in five trips. Curtis, Smith and Bush worked for the losers.

Steltz Goes Out

Whatever chances the Yankees had faded when their big ace, Danny Steltz, pulled up with a sore arm and had to be lifted in the second inning.

The Dodgers, who had not been too impressive in the second half, assaulted the sore-armed Steltz for a quartet of markers in the first inning.

Coach Bill Thomas lifted Steltz after he pitched to one batter in the second and brought on little Joe Clark. Before the frame was over, Bill Thomas, Jr., had come in and he pitched effectively the remainder of the distance. He fanned eight.

The Yankees tried hard to stir a big rally in the fifth but the Dodgers nailed a runner at home plate with the bases loaded for the key play of the contest.

George Uhl pitched himself clear of several potential jams and wound up with a five-hitter.

Uhl and Armstrong contributed two hits apiece to the Dodger total of seven. The five Yankee safeties went to five different players.

Gene Nagele and Vic Locke of the Yankees pounded doubles.

Have Good Record

The Red Sox winning record of 7 and 1 eclipsed the Dodgers efforts in the first half and they have one more game remaining.

Although the second round winner has been established, the league will complete its original schedule, league director Bob Umpleby said today. This is being done in order to qualify a few pitchers for the 1953 season.

The Red Sox-Dodger playoff is expected to create a big stir among the small fry and large crowds are expected.

The opener will find the Dodgers' great little southpaw, Glenn Newell, going against Charlie Boice, the control artist of the Red Sox.

U. S. Golfers Trip Canadian Aces

Montreal, Aug. 27 (AP)—Riding along on a comfortable point margin, the six-man team of American professional golfers was a heavy favorite today to win the first international match against Canada.

The Americans piled up 7½ points to Canada's 1½ in the three four-ball matches yesterday. Six singles were carded in today's windup, the feature match bringing together Julius Boros, U. S. Open champion, and Bobby Locke, British Open titleholder.

Locke, the South African golfing master, posted low medal score among the 12 players in the four-ball matches. He shot a nine-under-par 135 for the 36-hole distance over the nearby Beaconsfield course.

Locke was teamed with Jules Huot of Montreal and the two took one point in three in their match against Boros and Doug Ford. They were one up after 18 holes but surrendered the lead to Boros' hot putting in the afternoon and the Americans went on to take the second 18 by a three-hole margin and win over the 36-hole distance, two up.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Francis Wallace, famous football writer and analyst, honored Bill Kitsos, former Kingston High fullback, in his annual pre-season football survey for a big, national magazine. Wallace lists Kitsos, who is captain and guard of the Lehigh Engineers, among three candidates for the Little All-America. Bracketed with Kitsos are Spada of Wesleyan and DiSpirito of Rhode Island.

Kitsos, an All-DUSO fullback, has been a standout since he joined the Lehigh squad.

Along with Kitsos, two other Kingstonians, Ronnie Scheffel and Big Ed Weaver, are preparing to head south to join their Alma Maters.

Weaver returns to West Point in a few days after an absence of several months. Restored to academic standing, Weaver has a year of football and basketball eligibility remaining and is expected to regain his post as first string offensive end for the Army gridders.

Scheffel joins Dashin' Dick Tyler of Newburgh with the North Carolina State basketball squad that figures to rank among the nation's best this season. State slumped last year but Tyler and Scheffel should cause the nation's basketball spotlight to focus brightly on the Carolina hills.

Big Ed has been working with a construction firm during the summer and is reported in top physical shape, 220 pounds of brawn and muscle. He was well on his way to All-America recognition when the scandal broke. Later he was beset by scholastic difficulties and dropped for the remainder of the 1951-52 semester. This time around he is confident he can make the grade, academically and on the sports fields.

The tragic death of David "Fatty" Banks in an automobile accident near Waterford sends another former Original Celtic great into professional basketball's Valhalla. Banks was a standout in the Celtic heydey of Dehnert, Lapchick, Beckman and Holman, joining the club near the end of its brilliant regime. By reason of his freakish build, with a prominent stomach draped over a 5 foot 7 inch frame, Banks was an amusing sight on the basketball floor. He and the towering Dutch Dehnert cut many capers at the expense of small town clubs. One of Banks' crowd stoppers was to bounce the basketball through Dehnert's legs to another Celtic player. It was pure corn, but the fans loved it. The Harlem Globe Trotters converted that sort of hijinks into a fortunte in later years. Banks served briefly as a Kingston manager in the old State League.

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Siena College's meteoric rise into the nation's collegiate basketball stratosphere is due for a severe challenge this winter, according to the Indians' 21-game schedule released by the Rev. Maurus Fitzgerald, OFM, athletic director. Fifteen games are scheduled at the Albany armory and six on the road. Four newcomers on the card are Rhode Island State, Loyola of California, Xavier of Cincinnati and Memphis State. Dartmouth, Lawrence Tech, Georgetown and St. Francis (Pa.) return to the Siena slate after an absence of a year or more. Annual standouts to be played again are Canisius, in a home and home series; Manhattan, St. Francis of Brooklyn in a home and home series; Niagara, St. Bonaventure, home-and-home; Fordham and LeMoyne. Siena engages Iona in Madison Square Garden on Dec. 6. The Indians are unbeaten in three Garden clashes with Manhattan.

Wasn't Vic Raschi's 1-0 victory over the Indians just about the most important achievement in the American League season? And was there any significance attached to Cleveland's seven errors in a pressure game with the Washington Senators on Sunday? The Yankees have a rugged September schedule on the road but if the Indians can't shake off their usual September chokeup, it will be Preacher Roe against Allie Reynolds in the 1952 World Series opener. Even Bob Tierney gave up on the Giants the day Durocher opened with an outfield of Mueller, Rhodes and Elliott.

As Jake Senor said about slumping Jake Jr., of the Fraternal Youth League: "If he could pound the ball like he hits those pork chops, he'd average .900." Tsk, dad, what was your BA?

Olson 2-1 Choice Over Hairston

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson aims for his sixth straight victory tonight and another crack at middleweight champion Ray Robinson when he tangles with durable Gene (Silent) Hairston at Madison Square Garden. CBS will telecast the 10 p. m. (EST) ten rounder.

The 24-year-old Honolulu-born Swede is the most improved fighter in the 160-pound division. Since losing a close decision to Robinson in San Francisco last March, the clever islander has won five in a row.

Three of the wins were over Walter Cartier, Jimmy Beau and Robert Villemain. On the strength of those triumphs, Bobo has been made a 2 to 1 favorite over the strong, 23-year-old Bronx Negro.

Conservation Department Lists Special Hunting Dates to Reduce Deer Population

Albany, Aug. 26—New York state's 1952 deer season doesn't open for many weeks but the advance application for licenses and questions concerning the hunting dates have been so great that Conservation Department officials said today that nearly 400,000 deer hunters might be expected afield.

The deer herd itself was believed at an all-time high, numbering up around a half-million head—far more than during the days when Iroquois bowmen hunted the whitetails all year round.

The deer season in Putnam county runs from Nov. 15 to Nov. 22, inclusive.

The southern tier, central and western region season starts Nov. 24 and closes on Nov. 29. One buck with antlers at least three inches long, except that in all counties listed but Oneida and Madison, deer of either sex regardless of antlers may be taken Nov. 28 and Nov. 29.

For archers, longbows (45-pound pull or more) are legal for deer during regular open deer season in all counties. Also one deer of either sex may be taken with a longbow during the 14 days preceding the opening of that regular deer season in those same counties.

Jones Dairy-Merchants Contest Opens Final Phase in Twi Loop

Pennant aspirations will be on the block when Jones Dairy meets Colonial Merchants in today's City League fracas at the Athletic Field at 6 p. m.

The Boulevard Gulf crew checked Chez Emile's spoiler role in the second round yesterday, 8 to 2, to climb into fourth place and relegate the former champions to the cellar spot.

George Telepas, the Merchants nifty little southpaw, will go against Tommy Fisher of the Dairymen. The Joneses trail Wiltwyck Motors by a half game, with the Merchants one length out.

Jerry Bechtold, who is rapidly developing into the best pitcher in local baseball, throttled the veteran Chez Emile array with three hits. He fanned one, walked two, and yielded single tallies in the first and third innings.

Darkness halted the contest at the end of 4½ innings.

Hinkley Victim

"Red" Hinkley, hero of last week's "Iron Man" stunt didn't have it yesterday. The Gulfmen clubbed him for nine hits and enjoyed a four-run rally in the fourth inning.

Two of the nine Boulevard safeties went to Joe Shattan. Bechtold scattered three hits to Joe Norton, Bill Olen and Al Decker.

Leading 4-2 the Boulevards cemented their victory with an outburst in the fourth. Don Lyons and Bill Tierney touched Hinkley for a single and walk to launch the rally. Joe Shattan's single delivered Lyons. Barringer tripled scoring Tierney and Shattan and came home on Smith's single.

Jack Houghtaling and Tony Turck Win Park Horseshoe Pitching Championships

Jack Houghtaling and Tony Turck captured individual titles in the inter-park horseshoe pitching tournament yesterday at Hasbrouck Park. Five parks competed.

Houghtaling won honors in the 15 to 17 age group by blanking George Stoutenburg of Cornell, 11 to 0. Turck won the 14-and-under championship by whipping George Ellsworth of Cornell, 23-14, in one of the best matches of the day.

En route to the finals against Houghtaling, Stoutenburg tripped Don Slater of Cornell, 22-13, while Houghtaling was taking the measure of Jim DeCicco of Hutton, 21-8.

In preliminary matches, Stoutenburg won over Tom Neal of St. Mary's, 23-6; Houghtaling defeated John Schoonmaker of Hutton, 11-0; and Don Slater beat Jim Woods of Block Park, 11-0.

Turck won his first match from Joe Klonowski of Cornell, 21-11; while Ellsworth, the other finalist, was drawing a bye.

The tournament officials included Betsy DeWitt, Diane Schultz and Lorraine McGinnis of Hasbrouck Park; Marilyn Gadd of Cornell; Beatrice Newkirk, Hutton; and Bernie Redmond, Recreation Center.

Esso Extra gives you a remarkable combination of qualities that will improve the all-year, all-around performance of 9 out of 10 cars on the road.

We believe a trial will prove to you Esso Extra delivers results no other gasoline can. It gives you full power, long mileage, high anti-knock, quick starting, fast engine warm-up, and protection against vapor-lock stalling.

And while you're at your Esso Dealer's, there's certainly no better time to let him give your car a complete lubrication and careful check-up for the hot weather driving you'll be doing.

*Esso Extra Gasoline is good for ALL cars, but in 9 out of 10 it will give better all-around performance all year 'round than any other gasoline. Only a car with an engine that's poorly adjusted, badly worn, or one with unusual compression characteristics may be unable to use fully the many extra qualities of this great gasoline. Red Sox Tossers Capture Second Half Pennant in KAA Little League

Dodgers Eliminate Yankee Hopes, 7-5; Championship Series Starts Labor Day

Thanks to a friendly lift from the Dodgers, the KAA Little League Red Sox backed into the second round pennant yesterday and qualified for the championship series against their benefactors on Labor Day morning.

Without lifting a finger, the Sox nailed down the bunting with a record of 7 wins and 1 defeat, when the Dodgers obligingly eliminated the Yankees, 7 to 5 at the 156th FA diamond.

The Red Sox and Dodgers launch the championship series, best of three, at 10 a. m. on Labor Day.

Steltz Goes Out

Whatever chances the Yankees had faded when their big ace, Danny Steltz, pulled up with a sore arm and had to be lifted in the second inning.

The Dodgers, who had not been too impressive in the second half, assaulted the sore-armed Steltz for a quartet of markers in the first inning.

Coach Bill Thomas lifted Steltz after he pitched to one batter in the second and brought on little Joe Clark. Before the frame was over, Bill Thomas, Jr., had come in and he pitched effectively the remainder of the distance. He fanned eight.

The Yankees tried hard to stir a big rally in the fifth but the Dodgers nailed a runner at home plate with the bases loaded for the key play of the contest.

George Uhl pitched himself clear of several potential jams and wound up with a five-hitter.

Uhl and Armstrong contributed two hits apiece to the Dodger total of seven. The five Yankee safeties went to five different players.

Gene Nagele and Vic Locke of the Yankees pounded doubles.

Have Good Record

The Red Sox winning record of 7 and 1 eclipsed the Dodgers efforts in the first half and they have one more game remaining.

Although the second round winner has been established, the league will complete its original schedule, league director Bob Umpleby said today. This is being done in order to qualify a few pitchers for the 1953 season.

The Red Sox-Dodger playoff is expected to create a big stir among the small fry and large crowds are expected.

The opener will find the Dodgers' great little southpaw, Glenn Newell, going against Charlie Boice, the control artist of the Red Sox.

Just for the Record Says Pucker Davis

The Colonial Merchants of the City Baseball League trounced the Lanesville A.C., 15 to 5, Sunday on the Lanesville diamond, Manager Bill "Pucker" Davis of the locals reported today, "just in case they forgot to do so." Mike Palumbo pitched for the Merchants. Angie Fondino and George Telepas were the batting stars, the former cracking a pair of doubles with the bases loaded and Telepas banging four singles in five trips. Curtis, Smith and Bush worked for the losers.

U. S. Golfers Trip Canadian Aces

Montreal, Aug. 27 (AP)—Riding along on a comfortable point margin, the six-man team of American professional golfers was a heavy favorite today to win the first international match against Canada.

The Americans piled up 7½ points to Canada's 1½ in the three four-ball matches yesterday. Six singles were carded in today's windup, the feature match bringing together Julius Boros, U. S. Open champion, and Bobby Locke, British Open titleholder.

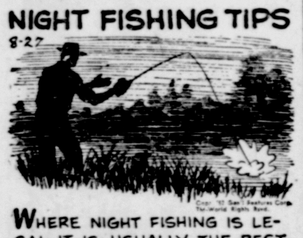

Locke, the South African golfing master, posted low medal score among the 12 players in the four-ball matches. He shot a nine-under-par 135 for the 36-hole distance over the nearby Beaconsfield course.

Locke was teamed with Jules Huot of Montreal and the two took one point in three in their match against Boros and Doug Ford. They were one up after 18 holes but surrendered the lead to Boros' hot putting in the afternoon and the Americans went on to take the second 18 by a three-hole margin and win over the 36-hole distance, two up.

NIGHT FISHING TIPS

WHERE NIGHT FISHING IS LEGAL IT IS USUALLY THE BEST TIME FOR CATCHING THE LARGEST OF MOST SPECIES.

YOU SHOULD KNOW A STREAM AND ITS BANKS TO AVOID USING A FLASHLIGHT. LEARN TO TIE ON LURES AND NET FISH IN DARKNESS. SOME FISH QUIT FEEDING WHEN A LIGHT IS SHOWN. DON'T SMOKE. MOVE ABOUT QUIETLY!

IT'S EASIER TO HANDLE A SHORT FLY LINE IN THE DARK BUT KEEP IT TAUT SO THAT A SILENT STRIKE MAY BE FELT. QUITE OFTEN A FISH WILL BE HOOKED CLOSE BY DUE TO REDUCED VISIBILITY. FLIES SHOULD BE USED IN QUIET POOLS. COLOR AND PATTERN MEAN LESS AT NIGHT. USE NOISY LURES FOR PLUG CASTING!

Olson 2-1 Choice Over Hairston

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson aims for his sixth straight victory tonight and another crack at middleweight champion Ray Robinson when he tangles with durable Gene (Silent) Hairston at Madison Square Garden. CBS will telecast the 10 p. m. (EST) ten rounder.

The 24-year-old Honolulu-born Swede is the most improved fighter in the 160-pound division. Since losing a close decision to Robinson in San Francisco last March, the clever islander has won five in a row.

Three of the wins were over Walter Cartier, Jimmy Beau and Robert Villemain. On the strength of those triumphs, Bobo has been made a 2 to 1 favorite over the strong, 23-year-old Bronx Negro.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Francis Wallace, famous football writer and analyst, honored Bill Kitsos, former Kingston High fullback, in his annual pre-season football survey for a big, national magazine. Wallace lists Kitsos, who is captain and guard of the Lehigh Engineers, among three candidates for the Little All-America. Bracketed with Kitsos are Spada of Wesleyan and DiSpirito of Rhode Island.

Kitsos, an All-DUSO fullback, has been a standout since he joined the Lehigh squad.

Along with Kitsos, two other Kingstonians, Ronnie Scheffel and Big Ed Weaver, are preparing to head south to join their Alma Maters.

Weaver returns to West Point in a few days after an absence of several months. Restored to academic standing, Weaver has a year of football and basketball eligibility remaining and is expected to regain his post as first string offensive end for the Army gridders.

Scheffel joins Dashin' Dick Tyler of Newburgh with the North Carolina State basketball squad that figures to rank among the nation's best this season. State slumped last year but Tyler and Scheffel should cause the nation's basketball spotlight to focus brightly on the Carolina hills.

Big Ed has been working with a construction firm during the summer and is reported in tbp physical shape, 220 pounds of brawn and muscle. He was well on his way to All-America recognition when the scandal broke. Later he was beset by scholastic difficulties and dropped for the remainder of the 1951-52 semester. This time around he is confident he can make the grade, academically and on the sports fields.

The tragic death of David "Fatty" Banks in an automobile accident near Waterford sends another former Original Celtic great into professional basketball's Valhalla. Banks was a standout in the Celtic heydey of Dehnert, Lapchick, Beckman and Holman, joining the club near the end of its brilliant regime. By reason of his freakish build, with a prominent stomach draped over a 5 foot 7 inch frame, Banks was an amusing sight on the basketball floor. He and the towering Dutch Dehnert cut many capers at the expense of small town clubs. One of Banks' crowd stoppers was to bounce the basketball through Dehnert's legs to another Celtic player. It was pure corn, but the fans loved it. The Harlem Globe Trotters converted that sort of hijinks into a fortunte in later years. Banks served briefly as a Kingston manager in the old State League.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Siena College's meteoric rise into the nation's collegiate basketball stratosphere is due for a severe challenge this winter, according to the Indians' 21-game schedule released by the Rev. Maurus Fitzgerald, OFM, athletic director. Fifteen games are scheduled at the Albany armory and six on the road. Four newcomers on the card are Rhode Island State, Loyola of California, Xavier of Cincinnati and Memphis State. Dartmouth, Lawrence Tech, Georgetown and St. Francis (Pa.) return to the Siena slate after an absence of a year or more. Annual standouts to be played again are Canisius, in a home and home series; Manhattan, St. Francis of Brooklyn in a home and home series; Niagara, St. Bonaventure, home-and-home; Fordham and LeMoyne. Siena engages Iona in Madison Square Garden on Dec. 6. The Indians are unbeaten in three Garden clashes with Manhattan.

Wasn't Vic Raschi's 1-0 victory over the Indians just about the most important achievement in the American League season? And was there any significance attached to Cleveland's seven errors in a pressure game with the Washington Senators on Sunday? The Yankees have a rugged September schedule on the road but if the Indians can't shake off their usual September chokeup, it will be Preacher Roe against Allie Reynolds in the 1952 World Series opener. Even Bob Tierney gave up on the Giants the day Durocher opened with an outfield of Mueller, Rhodes and Elliott.

As Jake Senor said about slumping Jake Jr., of the Fraternal Youth League: "If he could pound the ball like he hits those pork chops, he'd average .900." Tsk, dad, what was your BA?

Frog Love-Making Studied

Huntington, W. Va. (AP)—Among other things, a 10-year study of frogs has added a new word to the language of love-making. It's "nudging. "That, according to Dr. N. Bayard Green, Marshall College zoologist, is how the Upland Chorus frog procreates. Many of the males, he found, are chaste, but not by choice. He said they just don't get a tumble from the females, who do the courting on their own. And that croak may simply fail to attract her when boy frog meets girl frog. She always gets her man anyway because there are more "hims" than "hers." During his long studies Green observed some 6,000 frogs. For that he got a doctor's degree this summer at Ohio State University.

Sharks Are Hunted

Port Sudan (AP) — An all-out campaign against sharks in Mohamed Gul area of the Red Sea is underway, but not for safety purposes. The drive is designed to produce revenue through the sale of fish meal and valuable shark oil. Recently a fishery officer caught nine sharks in 40 minutes, including one that weighed 600 pounds, in these waters.

'Dressen Is Phony' — Stanky

St. Louis, Aug. 27 (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky fired a verbal blast at the Brooklyn Dodgers' Charley Dressen last night, calling him a "phony and an alibi manager."

Stanky, insisting "I'm not upset over the loss of the four-game series" to the Dodgers, made his remarks at his club-house office in a post-game conference with newsmen.

The two rival managers had a verbal rift over Dodger Carl Erskine's pitching motion during the second inning of the game which St. Louis dropped 4-3.

Stanky, however, said he was upset about a motion Dressen made in the dugout, sticking his finger in his mouth "like a man taking a drink."

The St. Louis manager said he probably raised Dressen's dander by telling his athletes to forget about baseball until they reported to Sportsman's Park for last night's game.

He added:

"But I never lifted the curfew or brought out a giggle bottle."

Feller's Stout Pitching Gives Tribe Pennant Hopes Big Lift

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

"Expendable" Bob Feller may have lost some of his mound magic of years gone by but the stout-hearted Cleveland righthander is not ready to act as a sacrificial lamb for anyone.

The former strikeout king was enjoying the last laugh today following one of his better performances of the year—one which helped the Indians rack up a vital triumph.

The one-time Iowa farm-boy came within two outs of winning a hurling duel from the fabulous Bobby Shantz last night before leaving the mound in the ninth inning with the Indians and Athletics deadlocked at 3-3.

The Indians went on to capture a thrill-packed 6-3 triumph in 11 innings to remain within one game of the American League-leading Yankees, who whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-3, in New York.

A two-run triple by castoff Barney McCosky, a Philadelphia discard, snapped the 3-3 deadlock and gave reliefer Lou Brissie the win. Brissie, who also once wore the livery of the Athletics, retired all eight men he faced and struck out pinch hitter Keith Thomas and the dangerous Eddie Joost with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth after relieving Feller.

Feller Resents Jibe

According to a Cleveland writer, Feller, assigned to oppose Shantz in place of Mike Garcia, the Cleveland ace, was being sacrificed to the 22-game winning Philadelphia southpaw.

"Feller will be in there tonight because he's expendable," wrote Ed McAuley, the able sports columnist of the Cleveland News. "If the fabulous little Bobby Shantz is to win his 23rd game at the expense of the Indians, it will hurt less if he wins it from Feller."

"We'll see tonight who is expendable or who is being sacrificed," was Feller's reply.

And for seven innings Bob outpitched the league's No. 1 pitcher, limiting the A's to one safety. He weakened in the ninth—but by this time had matched Shantz.

Yanks Beat Paige

The Yankees also had a squeaker, winning in the ninth when Joe Collins smashed a home run with two out and two runners on base to hang the defeat upon Satchel Paige. The Yankees had tied the score in the eighth when Gene Woodling followed a two-out walk to Yogi Berra with his 11th homer of the campaign.

Brooklyn's runaway Dodgers moved a step nearer to the National League flag, sweeping the four-game series in St. Louis with a 4-3 success over the Cardinals. The second-place New York Giants remained 10½ lengths behand the Dodgers, winning a 14-7 slugfest in Pittsburgh.

A two-base wild throw by catcher Del Rice on a dribbler hit by George Shuba just 10 feet in front of the plate allowed two Brooklyn runners to score in the eighth, enough to give the Dodgers their 4-3 decision over the Cards. Rice's first error in 80 games cost Stu Miller, the sensational rookie righthander, his first defeat. Miller allowed only four hits, the first coming with two out in the seventh.

Boston's Warren Spahn blanked the Reds in Cincinnati, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs eked out a 13-inning, 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies on Dee Fondy's run-scoring single.

Washington moved into fourth place in the American League as Bob Porterfield bated in the only run in winning a 1-0 duel from Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox. The third-place Boston Red Sox continued to trail the Yankees by 3½ games, vanquishing the Detroit Tigers, 11-3, as rookie Sammy White knocked in five runs.

Pitching: Bob Porterfield, Senators—Pitched a four-hit shutout and singled in the only run of the game as Washington nipped the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, to move into fourth place.

Frog Love-Making Studied

Huntington, W. Va. (AP)—Among other things, a 10-year study of frogs has added a new word to the language of love-making. It's "nudging. "That, according to Dr. N. Bayard Green, Marshall College zoologist, is how the Upland Chorus frog procreates. Many of the males, he found, are chaste, but not by choice. He said they just don't get a tumble from the females, who do the courting on their own. And that croak may simply fail to attract her when boy frog meets girl frog. She always gets her man anyway because there are more "hims" than "hers." During his long studies Green observed some 6,000 frogs. For that he got a doctor's degree this summer at Ohio State University.

Sharks Are Hunted

Port Sudan (AP) — An all-out campaign against sharks in Mohamed Gul area of the Red Sea is underway, but not for safety purposes. The drive is designed to produce revenue through the sale of fish meal and valuable shark oil. Recently a fishery officer caught nine sharks in 40 minutes, including one that weighed 600 pounds, in these waters.

'Hens' Doing Well

Hastings, Neb. (AP) — Accepting a money deposit from a woman poultry raiser, the Hastings man remarked innocently: "The old hens are doing quite well, aren't they?" Turned out the woman was bringing in funds from a women's church group of which she is the treasurer.

'Dressen Is Phony' — Stanky

St. Louis, Aug. 27 (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky fired a verbal blast at the Brooklyn Dodgers' Charley Dressen last night, calling him a "phony and an alibi manager."

Stanky, insisting "I'm not upset over the loss of the four-game series" to the Dodgers, made his remarks at his club-house office in a post-game conference with newsmen.

The two rival managers had a verbal rift over Dodger Carl Erskine's pitching motion during the second inning of the game which St. Louis dropped 4-3.

Stanky, however, said he was upset about a motion Dressen made in the dugout, sticking his finger in his mouth "like a man taking a drink."

The St. Louis manager said he probably raisrd Dressen's dander by telling his athletes to forget about baseball until they reported to Sportsman's Park for last night's game.

He added:

"But I never lifted the curfew or brought out a giggle bottle."

Feller's Stout Pitching Gives Tribe Pennant Hopes Big Lift

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

"Expendable" Bob Feller may have lost some of his mound magic of years gone by but the stout-hearted Cleveland righthander is not ready to act as a sacrificial lamb for anyone.

The former strikeout king was enjoying the last laugh today following one of his better performances of the year—one which helped the Indians rack up a vital triumph.

The one-time Iowa farm-boy came within two outs of winning a hurling duel from the fabulous Bobby Shantz last night before leaving the mound in the ninth inning with the Indians and Athletics deadlocked at 3-3.

The Indians went on to capture a thrill-packed 6-3 triumph in 11 innings to remain within one game of the American League-leading Yankees, who whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-3, in New York.

A two-run triple by castoff Barney McCosky, a Philadelphia discard, snapped the 3-3 deadlock and gave reliefer Lou Brissie the win. Brissie, who also once wore the livery of the Athletics, retired all eight men he faced and struck out pinch hitter Keith Thomas and the dangerous Eddie Joost with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth after relieving Feller.

Feller Resents Jibe

According to a Cleveland writer, Feller, assigned to oppose Shantz in place of Mike Garcia, the Cleveland ace, was being sacrificed to the 22-game winning Philadelphia southpaw.

"Feller will be in there tonight because he's expendable," wrote Ed McAuley, the able sports columnist of the Cleveland News. "If the fabulous little Bobby Shantz is to win his 23rd game at the expense of the Indians, it will hurt less if he wins it from Feller."

"We'll see tonight who is expendable or who is being sacrificed," was Feller's reply.

And for seven innings Bob outpitched the league's No. 1 pitcher, limiting the A's to one safety. He weakened in the ninth—but by this time had matched Shantz.

Yanks Beat Paige

The Yankees also had a squeaker, winning in the ninth when Joe Collins smashed a home run with two out and two runners on base to hang the defeat upon Satchel Paige. The Yankees had tied the score in the eighth when Gene Woodling followed a two-out walk to Yogi Berra with his 11th homer of the campaign.

Brooklyn's runaway Dodgers moved a step nearer to the National League flag, sweeping the four-game series in St. Louis with a 4-3 success over the Cardinals. The second-place New York Giants remained 10½ lengths behand the Dodgers, winning a 14-7 slugfest in Pittsburgh.

A two-base wild throw by catcher Del Rice on a dribbler hit by George Shuba just 10 feet in front of the plate allowed two Brooklyn runners to score in the eighth, enough to give the Dodgers their 4-3 decision over the Cards. Rice's first error in 80 games cost Stu Miller, the sensational rookie righthander, his first defeat. Miller allowed only four hits, the first coming with two out in the seventh.

Boston's Warren Spahn blanked the Reds in Cincinnati, 2-0, and the Chicago Cubs eked out a 13-inning, 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies on Dee Fondy's run-scoring single.

Washington moved into fourth place in the American League as Bob Porterfield bated in the only run in winning a 1-0 duel from Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox. The third-place Boston Red Sox continued to trail the Yankees by 3½ games, vanquishing the Detroit Tigers, 11-3, as rookie Sammy White knocked in five runs.

'School's Open'

1,609. The club called on all motorists to record even greater safety gains this year.

Beginning with the first day of school, the auto club will also distribute to first-grade students copies of a folder, "The Best Route to School," to take home to their parents. The folder describes how parents can point out to children the safest and most direct route to school and lists safety rules the youngsters should be taught.

In addition, the auto club is continuing to assist in the development of high school driver training courses for teenagers This year, 137 high schools in the auto club's area will offer behind-the-wheel and classroom instruction to students as part of their regular studies.

Other phases of the auto club's year-round safety education program in the schools include the distribution of more than 1,500,000 special safety posters, lesson units and crayon color-in sheets for elementary school instruction, and sponsorship of the activities of more than 20,000 members of the School Safety Patrol who will soon resume duties at school intersections guiding other youngsters safely across the street.

Postal Building Won't Cut School

Demolition of a wing of the Wooden Shoe Nursery School at 52 Main street to make way for the new uptown post office building will not affect operation of the nursery, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the First Dutch Church, said today.

He said that the nursery, which is operated under church auspices, would open as scheduled Tuesday, Sept. 2. He said that many people were under the impression that the entire building was to be demolished to make way for the new post office. Actually the section to be removed is a small swing which will not diminish the space used for the nursery.

Enrollments for the nursery, which is non-sectarian and open to all boys and girls of pre-school age, are now being taken at the church office, 272 Wall street.

Isabel Hill 'Fair,' Hospital Reports

The condition of Isabel Hill, of 295 Foxhall avenue, who was injured in a car-taxi accident at TenBroeck avenue and Downs street Monday, was reported as "fair" at the Benedictine Hospital today.

Josephine Perry, of 141 Washington avenue, who suffered a head injury in the same mishap, was treated at the hospital and discharged.

Louis Perry, of 64 Gill street, driver of the cab of Perry's Taxi Service, Inc., which overturned in the accident, said today that he arrested the other driver, Myron H. Schoonmaker, of 29 Fairview avenue, on a charge of passing a full stop sign. Schoonmaker arrested Perry on a charge of reckless driving.

Had No Reason for Act

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Customs officials say an Air France steward, arrested yesterday on a charge of failing to declare seven platinum bars, had no reason to try to hide the metal. There is no duty on platinum brought into this country, the customs spokesman said, and the only requirement is that it be declared. But customs officials said the steward, Andre Foligny, 30, of Paris, apparently did not know this and hid the seven bars in a vest under his shirt. The platinum was valued at $7,000.

Estate Cited

Philadelphia, Aug. 27 (AP)—The late Lammot duPont, onetime head of the duPont industrial organization, left an estate estimated to be worth $75 million in peronsal property and $325,000 in real estate. He died last July 24. An affidavit filed yesterday in the register of wills office here set the estimates. It was filed by the executors of the estate, the Wilmington Trust Co. and duPont's widow, Margaret F. duPont.

Reade Files for Video Station in Asbury Park

Walter Reade, Jr., motion picture theatre executive, announced Tuesday that application has been filed with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C., for permission to construct a commercial television station in Asbury Park, N. J., to operate on Channel 58.

The proposed station would be owned by the Atlantic Video Corporation of Asbury Park, with its studio in the Kinmouth Building, 710 Mattison avenue, Asbury Park, and its 490-foot transmitting antenna to be constructed near Asbury Park.

The FCC has allocated the ultra high frequency Channel 58 to Asbury Park for commercial use. The other nearest channel allocations in New Jersey are for two stations in Atlantic City and one each in New Brunswick and Trenton.

Reade said today that he would have the station on the air within a short time after the FCC gives the green light. The station would be known as the Walter Reade Theatre of the Air.

The bagpipe was popular with troubadors of the Middle Ages.

garten must have reached an age of four years and eight months as of Sept. 8, Laidlaw said, and added that "there will be no exception made to this Board of Education regulation." Laidlaw continued, "all children must have a year's kindergarten training before they can enter the first grade."

MJM Information

The school superintendent said today that it will be unnecessary for students promoted from the Kingston schools to register at MJM prior to the opening date of Sept. 2. It also will be unnecessary for non-residents who were registered last spring at their rural schools by the Kingston guidance department to register prior to the opening day.

Students who are new to the city and non-residents who were not registered last spring should register Thursday or Friday, Aug. 27 and 28, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. at the school on Andrew street.

No School Cafeteria

Meanwhile, students were reminded today by Laidlaw that there will be no cafeteria service available until further notice due to the incomplete construction of new facilities.

The superintendent pointed out, however, that milk, sandwiches and ice cream may be served by the high school cafeteria at the municipal auditorium on Broadway. Clarence Rowland, president of the board of education, has completed arrangements with Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk for the use of the city auditorium for the high school.

It also is planned that some of the gymnasium activities will be held at the municipal auditorium while the new field house facilities are under construction.

In the United States there are more than 5,000 companies operating about 8,000 coal mines.

1,609. The club called on all motorists to record even greater safety gains this year.

Beginning with the first day of school, the auto club will also distribute to first-grade students copies of a folder, "The Best Route to School," to take home to their parents. The folder describes how parents can point out to children the safest and most direct route to school and lists safety rules the youngsters should be taught.

In addition, the auto club is continuing to assist in the development of high school driver training courses for teenagers This year, 137 high schools in the auto club's area will offer behind-the-wheel and classroom instruction to students as part of their regular studies.

Other phases of the auto club's year-round safety education program in the schools include the distribution of more than 1,500,000 special safety posters, lesson units and crayon color-in sheets for elementary school instruction, and sponsorship of the activities of more than 20,000 members of the School Safety Patrol who will soon resume duties at school intersections guiding other youngsters safely across the street.

Postal Building Won't Cut School

Demolition of a wing of the Wooden Shoe Nursery School at 52 Main street to make way for the new uptown post office building will not affect operation of the nursery, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the First Dutch Church, said today.

He said that the nursery, which is operated under church auspices, would open as scheduled Tuesday, Sept. 2. He said that many people were under the impression that the entire building was to be demolished to make way for the new post office. Actually the section to be removed is a small swing which will not diminish the space used for the nursery.

Enrollments for the nursery, which is non-sectarian and open to all boys and girls of pre-school age, are now being taken at the church office, 272 Wall street.

Isabel Hill 'Fair,' Hospital Reports

The condition of Isabel Hill, of 295 Foxhall avenue, who was injured in a car-taxi accident at TenBroeck avenue and Downs street Monday, was reported as "fair" at the Benedictine Hospital today.

Josephine Perry, of 141 Washington avenue, who suffered a head injury in the same mishap, was treated at the hospital and discharged.

Louis Perry, of 64 Gill street, driver of the cab of Perry's Taxi Service, Inc., which overturned in the accident, said today that he arrested the other driver, Myron H. Schoonmaker, of 29 Fairview avenue, on a charge of passing a full stop sign. Schoonmaker arrested Perry on a charge of reckless driving.

Had No Reason for Act

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Customs officials say an Air France steward, arrested yesterday on a charge of failing to declare seven platinum bars, had no reason to try to hide the metal. There is no duty on platinum brought into this country, the customs spokesman said, and the only requirement is that it be declared. But customs officials said the steward, Andre Foligny, 30, of Paris, apparently did not know this and hid the seven bars in a vest under his shirt. The platinum was valued at $7,000.

Estate Cited

Philadelphia, Aug. 27 (AP)—The late Lammot duPont, onetime head of the duPont industrial organization, left an estate estimated to be worth $75 million in peronsal property and $325,000 in real estate. He died last July 24. An affidavit filed yesterday in the register of wills office here set the estimates. It was filed by the executors of the estate, the Wilmington Trust Co. and duPont's widow, Margaret F. duPont.

Reade Files for Video Station in Asbury Park

Walter Reade, Jr., motion picture theatre executive, announced Tuesday that application has been filed with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C., for permission to construct a commercial television station in Asbury Park, N. J., to operate on Channel 58.

The proposed station would be owned by the Atlantic Video Corporation of Asbury Park, with its studio in the Kinmouth Building, 710 Mattison avenue, Asbury Park, and its 490-foot transmitting antenna to be constructed near Asbury Park.

The FCC has allocated the ultra high frequency Channel 58 to Asbury Park for commercial use. The other nearest channel allocations in New Jersey are for two stations in Atlantic City and one each in New Brunswick and Trenton.

Reade said today that he would have the station on the air within a short time after the FCC gives the green light. The station would be known as the Walter Reade Theatre of the Air.

The bagpipe was popular with troubadors of the Middle Ages.

garten must have reached an age of four years and eight months as of Sept. 8, Laidlaw said, and added that "there will be no exception made to this Board of Education regulation." Laidlaw continued, "all children must have a year's kindergarten training before they can enter the first grade."

MJM Information

The school superintendent said today that it will be unnecessary for students promoted from the Kingston schools to register at MJM prior to the opening date of Sept. 2. It also will be unnecessary for non-residents who were registered last spring at their rural schools by the Kingston guidance department to register prior to the opening day.

Students who are new to the city and non-residents who were not registered last spring should register Thursday or Friday, Aug. 27 and 28, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. at the school on Andrew street.

No School Cafeteria

Meanwhile, students were reminded today by Laidlaw that there will be no cafeteria service available until further notice due to the incomplete construction of new facilities.

The superintendent pointed out, however, that milk, sandwiches and ice cream may be served by the high school cafeteria at the municipal auditorium on Broadway. Clarence Rowland, president of the board of education, has completed arrangements with Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk for the use of the city auditorium for the high school.

It also is planned that some of the gymnasium activities will be held at the municipal auditorium while the new field house facilities are under construction.

In the United States there are more than 5,000 companies operating about 8,000 coal mines.

Planes Follow Up on Big Raids on North Korea

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)—UN warplanes roared into North Korea today in a follow-up of last night's heavy bombing of Communist supply depots near the Red capital of Pyongyang and in northeast Korea.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said swooping UN fighter-bombers dropped explosives on Red front-line installations then dived low and unloaded napalm (burning jellied gasoline) in support of allied ground troops in the first clear weather in five days.

The U. S. Eighth Army said ground fighting was light and sporadic.

Seven B-29 Superforts last night dumped 70 tons of high explosives on a Red supply area at Pyongyang. It was one of the military targets the UN had said would be bombed out of existence. Civilians were warned before the attack to evacuate the area.

The air force said 14 B-26 light bombers in another night raid attacked a Red supply concentration near Pukchong, 35 miles northeast of Hungnam.

Planes Follow Up on Big Raids on North Korea

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)—UN warplanes roared into North Korea today in a follow-up of last night's heavy bombing of Communist supply depots near the Red capital of Pyongyang and in northeast Korea.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said swooping UN fighter-bombers dropped explosives on Red front-line installations then dived low and unloaded napalm (burning jellied gasoline) in support of allied ground troops in the first clear weather in five days.

The U. S. Eighth Army said ground fighting was light and sporadic.

Seven B-29 Superforts last night dumped 70 tons of high explosives on a Red supply area at Pyongyang. It was one of the military targets the UN had said would be bombed out of existence. Civilians were warned before the attack to evacuate the area.

The air force said 14 B-26 light bombers in another night raid attacked a Red supply concentration near Pukchong, 35 miles northeast of Hungnam.

The answers to everyday insurance problems
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Does my Medical Payments insurance cover the people in my car, the people in another car I might collide with or both?

ANSWER: Medical Payments Coverage applies to the people in your own car. Your Personal Injury liability insurance would provide for any necessary immediate medical treatment for people in another car with which you collided but any further medical expense for them would have to be a part of a claim where you were legally liable.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
